Gunman blasts windows

City businesses and vehicles were the targets of vandals who shot BB's through numerous windows while apparently driving about Romulus early Sunday morning.

More than $3,000 in window damage was reported to a Wahrman Street business and windows in two other companies and a pair of parked cars were damaged, city police reported.

The heaviest damage was listed at the Clark of Detroit building in the 15000 block of Wahrman Street sometime Sunday morning. Nine windows, including some with thermal panes, were damaged, police said.

Other pellet damage was reported at Springer Archery in the 12000 block of Huran River Drive and Specialty Systems in the 28000 block of Northline, police said.

Alarms were set off at 3 a.m. (Springer) and 3:35 a.m. (Specialty), police reported.

Two parked vehicles near Northline were also hit by pellets, one with windshield damage and the other with side window damage.

Voting slated for next Wednesday

By AL POST
ANP Staff Writer

The June 2 vote on the state-wide tax reform Proposal A will be conducted on Wednesday—not Tuesday as usual—Romulus City Clerk Linda Choate reminds voters. Choate said she heard numerous complaints at the Romulus Festival last weekend, asking why two elections were scheduled within the city in 14 days.

In addition to the state referendum on the tax proposal on June 2, Choate said, a school board election is scheduled Monday, June 14 (also a non-usual voting day).

Choate said the city has no control in this type of election scheduling and despite complaints from her office to Lansing about the problems such a twin vote causes in Romulus, she was told the elections will stand as ordered.

A second problem such elections create is the need to use paper ballots for the June 2 vote, Choate said, despite the fact that such an election process has not been used in Romulus in recent decades.

"If we used the election machines for the referendum," Choate said, "the state would control the machines until the vote totals were verified, blocking their use for the school board race."

The paper ballots also require other types of voter equipment, which Romulus had to borrow from Detroit and other surrounding communities, Choate said.

In the school board race, three candidates are seeking two board seats. The candidates include incumbent Sandra Langley, former board member Kenneth Berlenn and second-time candidate Pauline Calhoun.

To add to the confusion, Romulus also recently merged several voting precincts, eliminating the former Precincts 6 and 19.

Choate said letters have been sent out to the affected voters informing them of the changes and voting sites.

Precinct 6 voters have been merged into Precinct 15, while voters in Precinct 19 are being fed into Precincts 4, 11 and 12, Choate said.

Parents fight library placement in school

By AL POST
ANP Staff Writer

Where the Romulus Public Library will be located for 11 months, while asbestos abatement efforts are under way at both the library and Romulus City Hall, remains an unanswered question.

City officials, library representatives and school district officials met last week to attempt to finalize plans for use of the Mount Pleasant School gymnasium for a temporary library site.

As both school board president Edward Wilkerson and trustee Howard Kesner were absent, board vice-president Pat Patterson told the crowd the meeting would be informational only and that any decision on library use would be made when all board members were in attendance.

Parents of children attending day-care sessions at the school objected to the use of the gymnasium and cited potential safety problems for their small children if library users were allowed to walk into the school while the day care facilities were open.

One mother complained, "Where do the weirdoes in society go across this country? Unfortunately...where little children are!"

Romulus Librarian Diane Hazen stressed that numerous summer reading programs and other year-round educational efforts are increasing at the library and to close down the facilities for 11 months would severely hamper growth or, in some cases, even the continuation of programs.

Hazen said if the library is able to use the school gym, it would be a good test to see if such a location would add to walk-in clients since the school is near several subdivisions.

Hazen said most of those using the library before 3 p.m. daily are senior citizens and other adults, while after 3 p.m. it is usually students and family members using the facility.

Hazen said her staff is trained to keep troublemakers out of the library and she sometimes is forced to escort disruptive youths out of the library building.

But Hazen said she has seen no acts of violence in the library facilities during the years she has been head librarian.

Another citizen asked where voting normally done at Mount Pleasant School would take place if the library filled the gymnasium.

Superintendent of Romulus Schools Dr. William Bedell said arrangements have been made to switch the voting site to Barth Elementary School.

Bedell also told parents it would not work to move the public library into a high school or junior high school library location, but that the schools would be willing to formulate a suitable security plan for Mount Pleasant if the board approves the use as a temporary library.

The superintendent also told the parents, who complained their young children would miss the use of the gym, "It is very unusual for a gym to be available for day care centers today."

Student wins over Congress

By AL POST

If Romulus Senior High School honor student Andrea Brown had her way, the concept of the "Me Generation" would definitely be history.

Unlike students of the 1980s, who personified the "Me Generation", Brown has shown that she is both a school and community activist and was asked by Rep. William Ford (D-Ypsilanti) to express those views before the congressional House Committee on Education and Labor last week.

Joining Brown in Washington, D.C. were Romulus High School Principal Thomas Dolan and teacher Gail Fraley.

Romulus school officials were called to Washington because the school is one of the first in Michigan to offer a course credit for such volunteer work.

Brown, who also is president of the senior class, was asked to appear before the education committee and to speak on behalf of President Clinton's National Service Act.

She told the congressional committee that implementing the act "into a kindergarten through 12th-grade curriculum would help students gain leadership and teamwork abilities that would make them feel confident about helping others."

"The hard work and dedication needed to participate in community activities will grow in each student with continued participation," Brown said.

"Each quality they gain will lead them to a better way of living," she said.

The 18-year-old class president has won five college scholarships—partially due to her heavy involvement in the community.

Brown is a youth choir director at her church, has helped collect recyclables for the Inkster recycling center, prepared Thanksgiving baskets for needy families, sung Christmas carols at a convalescent home and has taught reading to pre-school age children.

Her heavy volunteerism led one committee member to ask, "What do you do in your spare time?"

Brown said she smiled and answered, "The normal teenage things...I go shopping and to the movies."

Fraley, an English teacher, also praised the National Service concept saying that volunteerism "has to be learned. Doing for others, without hope for personal gain or monetary acknowledgment, should be a quality of a well-rounded mature person and citizen."

Fraley said some youths today work on volunteer projects with their family at church, etc. But for many "working for free" is still a very foreign concept.

The National Service Act, if approved, would allow young citizens to receive $5,000 toward college tuition or job training and a minimum-wage stipend for each of two years of full-time service, Ford explained.

Dolan said Romulus is afflicted with many of the same problems as other communities across the U.S. He feels involving students in solving social problems is a necessity.

"This is critical legislation for schools," Dolan said, "schools need to teach information in the classroom and then have the students apply that knowledge in the rest of their world."

Romulus future growing brighter

By AL POST
ANP Staff Writer

While the future of Romulus is looking brighter, Mayor Beverly McAnally urged local business and governmental leaders to "identify with the future" and "think beyond our tenure."

Speaking at the Greater Romulus Chamber of Commerce luncheon last week, McAnally said, "While the city has lost 3,000 residents in recent years, many long-awaited housing and business programs are now about to begin."

The mayor said the recent economic turndown has slowed Metro Airport and Metro World growth plans, but both should begin to blossom this year.

The airport "noise abatement" assistance program will begin soon and aid many homeowners impacted by local jet takeoffs...but the project will take several years to be completed, McAnally warned.

Meanwhile on June 2, business executive Llywd Ecclestone will meet with city officials to outline his up-to-date plans on his 800-acre commercial development in Romulus.

"Plans are already being completed on Ecclestone's first major business structure," McAnally said.

Meanwhile several housing projects already being erected by other contractors are being occupied by residents and others are being planned, McAnally said.

Various traffic interchanges also are currently being upgraded or created this summer, she explained, and will provide a real summer traveling challenge for area motorists.

But upon their completion, McAnally said, "Romulus will have a vastly improved roadway network."

The mayor proudly declared that the Downtown Development Association has been reactivated and she hopes that Ron Brugger's new Romulus Auto Parts building will be one of the catalysts for growth.

"The world is shrinking every day," McAnally explained, "and for Romulus' growth to be sound, all of us need to think beyond our tenure."

"Only those who can identify with the future and find their niche in it, will be successful," she proclaimed.

"It is time for all of us to stop whining and to work collectively for the city's future," McAnally said.

The mayor then said with a trace of a smile, "I guess you also have heard about the local casino issue. I want you to know that I have no one seeking to build casinos in Romulus today."

"But," McAnally said, "while I think it is morally corrupt to hinge our financial future on casinos, I have to realize that taxpayers have repeatedly turned us down when we asked for millage hikes for road or drainage improvements, or for granting local firemen extra funds. "People don't trust us. And we have to doubt if they are ever going to trust us."

Looking into casinos is just one of the alternate forms of financing the city is examining for the future, she said.

"But overall," McAnally said, "In 1993 we are presenting a balanced budget...which did not require use to raise taxes. In fact we are offering a lower millage rate today than we did in 1982."

In her concluding statement, McAnally said, "Romulus is very healthy today...and we are determined to keep it that way."

Union opposes Proposal A

By AL POST
ANP Staff Writer

Romulus School support staff members announced this week they are campaigning against approval of Gov. John Engler's Proposal A.

Rosemarie Nettle, president of Local 64, Michigan American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employees, AFL-CIO, announced opposition to the Engler tax reform plan claiming it is a "tax shift, not tax reform."

The union represents the school district cafeteria workers, custodians, maintenance persons, bus drivers, secretaries and security personnel.

Nettle said the union position is "Proposal A would shift education funding from one unfair tax to another unfair tax. Both the property tax and the sales tax place a heavier burden on the low and middle income families than on the wealthy."

Nettle complained that under Proposal A low and middle-income Michigan families would lose the Homestead Tax Credit now available to them, as well as getting a 50-percent increase in their sale tax (4 to 6 percent).

"School districts will face a loss of local tax autonomy as control is surrendered to the state and schools will then have to compete with other local units of government for funds," she continued.

Sign law is called outdated

By AL POST
ANP Staff Writer

The Romulus city ordinance that requires annual sign inspections and fee collections "is outdated", Building, Safety and Engineering Department Director David J. Paul informed Mayor Beverly McAnally recently.

The written memorandum was spurred by a complaint voiced May 10 by Romulus resident Leo L. Knasiak, who said the city should collect those mandated fees since revenues are needed so badly.

Knasiak also stated during a regular city council meeting that many signs within the city are ugly and do not comply with city codes and should be ordered removed by the city.

In his memorandum Paul wrote, "The ordinance pertaining to annual sign inspection is currently outdated."

"This office has been working with other communities to determine a reasonable annual inspection fee," Paul continued.

"At the present time, all new sign installations are reviewed and inspected by either myself or electrical inspector Joseph Watt," Paul explained.

"Illegal signs and or complaints regarding signs are handled through this office with the assistance (when necessary) of the ordinance department. In the past, this office has had illegal signs removed or relocated depending on the nature of the violation," Paul wrote.

"Due to the vast number of signs within the city, a great deal of time would have to be devoted to properly meet the requirements of the annual inspection ordinance."

"Further the current rate of construction within the city does not permit the necessary time for the staff to inspect all existing signs," Paul concluded.

still be would be conducted for the children.

Both School Board members Sandra Langley and Mary King expressed concern over turning the gym into a temporary library.

Langley echoed some of the parents' concerns over the "accessibility" into the school while the day care sessions were being conducted.

While King said while she was not "saying definitely no" for such use, she admitted it would take a great deal of convincing to make her vote yes on such a proposal.

Some complained that the school district was being asked to put up $18,000 toward the lighting and parking remodeling needed for such a temporary program.

But City Treasurer Jim Napiorkowski countered by saying that the parking area cost could be deeply trimmed if need be by simply putting in stone coverings rather than asphalt.

He asked what difference it made to the public financial picture as to whether the city or the school district paid for the renovations. "Either way it is paid for by the same taxpayer," he said.

Additional studies are being conducted on the use of the school as the temporary library, as well as alternate sites.

But one site, a vacant laundry building near Metro Airport, mentioned by King at the meeting, was later found to be unacceptable because it is currently involved in a court bankruptcy proceeding.

Local students earn scholarships

By MARGO DEWEY
ANP Feature Editor

Their career choices are admirable in a economy which is lacking momentum for job openings at the present time. Their dreams include becoming an occupational therapist, engineer and politician/public defender.

Recently four Wayne Memorial High School seniors, all members of the National Honor Society, received scholarships to assist them with the college/university of their choice.

Westland resident Erica Schmitt received a $1,500 scholarship from the Wayne Rotary to pursue her goal of becoming an occupational therapist.

"I think it would be interesting to help people," Schmitt said. "I've worked at Wayne Living Center, and I feel it's rewarding to assist those who aren't able to get around as well."

Schmitt has participated in many school activities including: German Club president; Honor Society treasurer; co-captain of the forensics team; president of the Orchestra Council; Muscular Dystrophy Association carnival volunteer; volunteer at local senior citizens center and member of the Detroit Symphony Civic Orchestra.

She plans to attend Eastern Michigan University. Besides studying all hours of the night, she enjoys playing her violin and debating on the forensics team.

John Bemsesderfer received $1,500 from the Wayne Rotary. He would like to study mechanical engineering when he attends the University of Michigan this fall.

"Right now I'm working at Master Photo where I do a little of everything," Bemsesderfer said. "I like math so I think engineering would be the best career choice for me right now."

Bemesderfer, a Canton resident, is vice president of the German Club and a member of the forensics team.

Wayne resident Valerie Devore is a $1,500 Wayne Rotary recipient. She aspires to become a public defender/politician.

"Over the summer I went to a conference which was in Washington D.C. dealing with the government," Devore said. "That really inspired me."

Devore is the editor of the Wayne Memorial yearbook, a staff writer for the school newspaper, senator of the senior class and a member of the softball varsity team.

She will attend Wayne State University this fall.

dent, received $1,500 from the Wayne Rotary. He intends to study engineering and music instruction at the University of Ann Arbor this fall.

Man faces robbery charges

A June 11 final conference has been scheduled for an Inkster man charged with armed robbery before Detroit Wayne County Recorder's Court Judge Warfield Moore.

Jovan Claybron, 18, allegedly took an unknown amount of money at gunpoint from a clerk at the 7-11 Food Store in Wayne, 32324 Annapolis, 12:20 a.m. March 26, according to Wayne police Lt. Mel Drews.

"He was arraigned April 2, and a not-guilty plea was entered," Drews said. "A $25,000 cash bond was set."

Claybron appeared for an examination April 14 before 29th District Court Judge Carolyn Archbold, and the $25,000 cash bond was reduced to $10,000 or 10 percent.

Belle Isle attracts fans of all ages

Hands down holding flags of encouragement—the usual montage of smiling faces trying to squeeze into the camera view at major sporting events. However, this year at First of America Free Prix Day on Belle Isle, you may see a number of fans shying away from the camera.

Since the event is annually held on a Friday, many of the expected 60,000 race enthusiasts will be escaping from a day of work or school hoping not to be caught by the watchful eye of the camera. Dedicated fans are expected to travel from as far as Canada and northern Michigan to enjoy a day of racing excitement.

"I am completely joyed by the turnout into Free Prix Day," said Grand Prix President Robert McCabe, sponsor of the three-day race. In addition to the record-setting number nearly 45,000 are expected to view the Grand Prix race on Sunday.

Race fans range in age and social backgrounds, from high-powered businessmen and women to fathers and sons reliving memories of past generations of racing legends. "The attraction of Indy car racing seems to stem from inside race fans and isn't definable by gender, race or social status," commented McCabe. "The diversity of the audience itself plays a major role in the success of racing."

McCabe hopes track conditions continue to be as favorable as in past years.

Athletes who drive

Athletes come in many shapes and sizes, yet constant visions of physically superior "super-beings" pushing themselves to the limits seem to plague the minds of most Americans. This fallacy has led to the exclusion of many deserving athletic groups, one being race car drivers. The arguing a test of athletic ability? The car expends all of the energy, not the driver.

The rationale becomes clear when you examine the word "athlete." An athlete is someone who takes part in competitive sports. No one can deny that racing cars is a competitive sport. So although race car drivers like Scott Brayton, for example, may not be able to run a mile in under five minutes or bring in the winning run in the ninth inning, they can make hundreds of life-threatening decisions throughout a challenging three-hour race, displaying a level of concentration worthy of any athletic event.

Brayton set his sites on car racing early in life. The son of former Indy car driver Lee Brayton, Scott has been racing cars since he received a go-cart for his fifth birthday. Scott moved up from racing go-carts to open-wheel formula cars and the Formula Ford series. In 1981, Brayton, who hails from Coldwater, Mich., began racing Indy cars. Today, Brayton is the only driver to have won the ITT Automotive Grand Prix Indy Car race.

Brayton started his Indy car career by driving partial campaigns almost exclusively for his family's team. However, he made his mark in 1985 when he set a track-record lap time of 214.99 mph and qualified with a four-lap average speed of 212.354 on opening day of the Indy 500. This year, Scott, sponsored by First of America Bank, will drive No. 22, Amway's Winning Spirit Indy Car in the Detroit PPG Indy Car race, the Indianapolis 500, the Milwaukee 200 and the Michigan 500.

Peel Out Here.

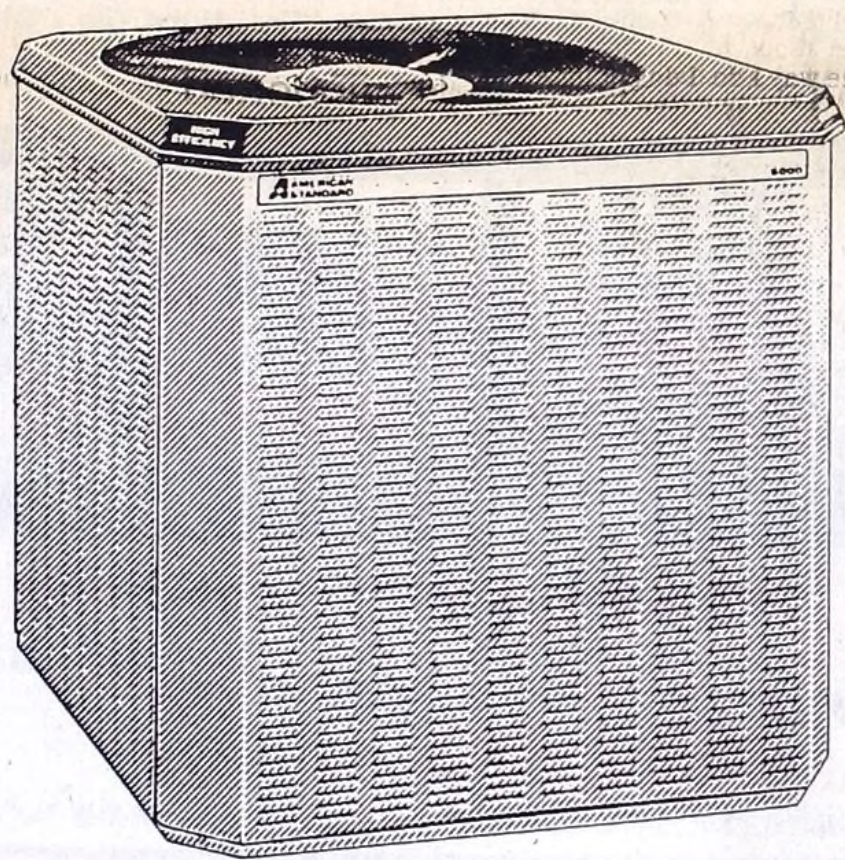

If driving excitement is what you crave, Free Prix Day at Belle Isle Park is the place to be. It's on June 11, the first day of the ITT Automotive Detroit Grand Prix weekend. We're inviting all of Detroit to be there on us for practice and qualifying, to see the same cars and champion drivers competing in Saturday's and Sunday's big races. The Grand Prize drawing will be held Friday. And you won't want to miss First of America-sponsored Scott Brayton driving No. 22, Amway's Winning Spirit Indy Car. Opinion

Split decision Yes on Proposal A

While we still have some unanswered questions and remain somewhat skeptical, we are recommending a YES vote Tuesday when voters decide the fate of Proposition A.

This wasn't an easy recommendation for us to make, and we took a long time in coming to this conclusion. We weighed and argued, pretty carefully, we feel, the arguments both for and against the proposal. We listened carefully, we admit, to Dick Headlee's arguments against the proposal—but our desire to see reform of some kind has overcome our caution.

It is time something was done to change property tax and school finance in our state. While this reform may not be the ultimate panacea for all the problems, we do admire the evidence presented from other states where similar financing plans are in place and operating well.

That, after all, was the deciding factor. If this plan, or a reasonable facsimile, works in other states and is accomplishing the goals outlined by the proponents of the plan, then it has a good chance of succeeding here.

Something must be done. Our children are suffering from the erratic and capricious funding in our schools. Their educations must be safeguarded. And while we hear the opponents' arguments regarding the loss of control in local school districts, we're not so sure that would be such a bad consequence. Frankly, with some of the antics and shenanigans we've witnessed by local school board members and officers, more state control might not be such a bad arrangement. In some cases, it could hardly be worse.

As for the argument that there will still be local millage elections, we agree. That will probably happen. But the basic education funding will be guaranteed and voters will have the option of paying for better schools if they so choose. At least, there will be some guarantee to our children of a minimum funding for their educations in our public schools.

And, the tax burden presently placed on property owners cannot continue. If they are to be forced to continue to fund education, it will be a disaster for our children.

We are willing to gamble on Proposition A because we can no longer gamble on local millages and property taxes. And, we can certainly no longer gamble with our children's future.

No on Prevailing Wage

In the City of Wayne, we are strongly urging a No vote on the Prevailing Wage issue. To approve this, we feel, would do a disservice to this community and to the next in which labor unions and special interest groups would manipulate and campaign for approval.

This is an ordinance which provides that any contractor doing business with the city in the excess of $50,000 guarantee that they are paying workers a prevailing wage.

It doesn't take a rocket scientist to figure out what that really means, despite the protests of the unions and those staunch union supporters who favor the ordinance. While those in office who proposed and supported the ordinance adamantly deny that it will have a financial impact on city spending, and insist that it is a means of improving the quality of life in the city for workers, we disagree strongly with both the letter and intent of the ordinance.

We do not think our founding fathers intended for local governmental units to control the wages paid to independent businesses, and we wonder at the outcome if this ordinance were to be challenged on that basis in court.

This ordinance provides that the City of Wayne dictate the wage level of firms doing business with the city. Paying increased hourly wages will increase the cost of most any job. The taxpayers fund these city projects, and therefore it is their money being spent, for no reason other than to support unions and union wages.

We don't think it's a good idea, and we don't think the taxpayers should have to bear this extra burden.

Parent supports school millage

To the editor:

My husband and I moved here from North Olmsted, Ohio, a western suburb of Cleveland, in 1985. We chose the Plymouth-Canton area because of the community atmosphere and the quality of the schools. Even though we thought our schools were excellent there, we are still amazed at the opportunities both our children have had in Plymouth-Canton that they would not have had in Ohio.

My daughter has gone on to the University of Michigan. All her friends are attending college. Some have gone on to schools like Cornell, Duke, Northwestern and USC. My son and daughter alike have participated in many extracurricular activities at the park. These activities have done more than just take up their time. They have learned life skills, such as how to work together on a team, how to achieve excellence, and how to adjust when you fall short, how to be a good friend, how to work for the good of the group, how use your time productively, how to get good grades when taking hard courses and still have time to pursue your dreams, how to expand your horizons and try things you never thought you'd be good at. This list of learning is endless.

Although the classroom is the most important part of formal school learning, I believe education is more than sitting in a classroom. People learn by doing, experimenting and failing. If you learn to write in English, what better way to practice than to work on the yearbook or the school newspaper? If your aspirations lie in the theater, you must have a play to practice and perform. What if you are in the Eagle Scouts and your troop meets in the local elementary school? These activities will suffer if the millage is defeated because our buildings will no longer be open after regular school hours. No more community dance recital in May. Nor more track meets, band competitions, football games, swim meets, soccer matches, etc. Say hello to many children with nothing to do after 2:15 p.m. Yes, this could happen in our wonderful community.

I hear some people say that we should bare bones our schools. Let them sacrifice, too. I suppose that could relieve some frustration as to what is actually happening in our world. Society is rapidly changing in sometimes frightening ways. Some children receive stability and structure in school alone. The chance to do something after school that is constructive is very helpful to children.

I truly believe that Lansing is trying to balance its budget by getting out of the business of education. And I also believe that no one up there cares about my child's education the way I do. I do not intend to ruin the opportunities of the present and future children of this community for what amounts to a handful of change per day. Let Lansing get its house in order. The 4 mills will give our schools two years of stability while they are coming to terms with the financial problems of this state. I will vote yes for the 4 mills, and I hope and pray there are many more out there who feel as I do.

Contributions cited in prevailing wage vote by councilmen

To the editor:

Please let it be known that the citizens of Wayne have the right to vote on the recently enacted Prevailing Wage Ordinance this June 2, 1993.

Residents now have the right to vote on the prevailing wage ordinance. Exercise that right. The Wayne City Council passed the prevailing wage ordinance by a four to three vote. It was moved by Tom Kelly and seconded by Bob Dickerson. Supported by Ken Warfield and Ed Phillips. It has been in effect since July 31, 1992. Now, because of a successful citizens petition drive, by your neighbors, at last this issue is before you.

A yes vote increases the cost of every city construction project (from sidewalks and roads to the library and more) that totals $50,000 or more. A no vote rescinds (stops) this ordinance. Council would have to award projects to the lower, qualified bidder. This ordinance does not guarantee any Wayne jobs. This ordinance will guarantee the taxpayers will pay out more tax dollars.

To vote no on this ordinance, punch 18 on your ballot. I found it interesting that this ordinance was pushed through by the three "freshmen" councilmen. These men voted against the advice of our own Wayne city finance department. In examining all of their campaign literature, there was not a single reference made to this issue. When searching for a reason for their unified support on this, one thing that stood out was that each of the new councilmen received at least a $1,000 campaign contribution from the same source. These are the facts, on record, with the county clerk's office (election division). In my opinion, we must say no to this type of questionable legislation.

James Netter,
Wayne

Proposal A is supported

To the editor:

If Proposal A fails, despite its broad base of organizational support, our very low sales tax will be deemed unchangeable for at least a generation. An important revenue source will be permanently lost. With a higher sales tax unavailable, because it is no seen to be permanently locked in the state constitution; the only other sources of revenue will be the state income tax or the local property tax.

Any attempt to raise the state income tax will be met with an outpouring of taxpayer anger greater than anything we have yet seen. Most politicians realize that voting to raise the state income tax is the "third rail" of Michigan politics. And to think that raising the income tax would be looked at more favorably by the voters than increasing the sales tax is wishful thinking. That leaves that old worn out work horse—the already bloated property tax.

The property tax is easy to raise. Voters are basically unorganized and apathetic at the local level where this tax operates. Few citizens can name any member of their local school board. Amazingly, schools have their own election law that is completely separate from the general election law of the state. How many millage increases would pass if they were required to be on the ballot only in the August general primary or in the November general election? Answer: None.

By allowing schools to hold special elections, almost at will, you effectively cut out participation by the confused and already apathetic general public. So school elections become essentially intra-mural affairs with school activists and school employee unions, like the Michigan Education Association, setting the agenda. The local voter is no match for the well-funded and politically powerful M.E.A. Sooner or later the education establishment will prevail and the millage will be raised.

Approving Proposal A will shift the education community's attention away from the local millage election and toward long overdue state funding coming from Lansing. With the attention now shifted to Lansing, and with Proposal A's constitutional caps on millages and assessments firmly in place, the local property taxpayers will finally be retired as the workhorses of school finance in this state.

This restoration of a fairer and more competitive balance between the property tax, income tax and sales tax is the best reason to vote for Proposal A. After 20 years of decay—you can make Michigan's tax system competitive with Ohio, Indiana, Illinois and other states. You can save Michigan's jobs and Michigan's factories by voting yes on June 2. Let's quit apologizing for Michigan. Let's get in the game. Just do it. Vote yes June 2.

Proposal A gets board member endorsement

To the editor:

For years, people who are touched by educational funding, whether they be property owners, parents, employees, journalists, school board trustees or legislators, have seen a system that is broken. The inequities between school districts, property taxes, per pupil spending and communities are driven by it.

That is why I am so very excited about Proposal A. This proposal will fix it.

How? It will put everybody back into the formula. Everybody is so busy figuring out how much this will cost them, or save them, from high income, to senior citizen, to low income. They are missing point. We, the people, have the perfect opportunity to point our state in the right direction. The people of Michigan are finally "The special interest."

By equalizing the millage rate with other districts, the percentage of income will be the same as well. We will no longer be expected to go back to the voters for more millages because we won't be able to. We will also be expected to control our costs by this constitutional change for the same reason.

The long-term effect of Proposal A is being questioned by many people. I don't understand this reasoning. Maybe it's the income factor of the increase on sales tax, but everyone knows the sales tax revenue does go up every year. There is long-term effect for property taxation, equity in spending and school finance.

Successful passage of Proposal A will allow us to restore

Bar association president discusses system

By CRAIG GARRETT
ANP Staff Writer

Fewer lawsuits were filed in 1993 than 1773, according to George Googasian, president of the State Bar of Michigan. "Per capita," Googasian said, "fewer lawsuits are filed today than in colonial times. We're more likely to resolve our disputes in a court-of-law before lawsuits are actually filed."

Googasian made his comments last Wednesday to members and guests (including a number of local attorneys) of the monthly Canton Economic Club luncheon that features prominent speakers from around the state representing a variety of professions.

Googasian, attempting to make his case, said lawyers have "taken a lot of abuse" during recent years, primarily from former Vice President Dan Quayle, himself a law school graduate, and from other politicians yearning to make a name for themselves.

"Today we must file for divorce, collection, small claims and probate," he said. "If you ask someone to estimate the number (of 18 million filed in 1991) of negligent cases filed, invariably it falls between 25 and 50 percent, when actually the number is 1.8 percent. The rest fall in the other categories. There's a real misconception out there."

Googasian pugnaciously attacked several other "misconceptions" concerning American attorneys, including loss of American market share, medical malpractice costs and health care cost increases, attorney advertising practices and the perception of lawyers feeding off the ever growing legal system.

all programs that have recently been cut and increase our revenue by 3 percent. I think every voter in the Wayne-Westland school district should be behind this proposal 100 percent and thank the state government for finally doing something about funding education and fixing something that is clearly broken.

Vote yes on June 2.

- U.S. Marine Corps Cpl. Randal Forreider has been promoted to his present rank while serving with the 2nd Assault Amphibian Battalion, 2nd Marine Division, Camp Lejeune, N.C. Forreider, the son of Josephine Forreider of Lincoln Park, is a 1987 graduate of Canton High School and joined the Corps in Feb. 1989.
- Navy Petty Officer Third Class Richard Shuler has reported for duty aboard the aircraft carrier USS Kitty Hawk, homeported in San Diego and serving currently in the Persian Gulf. Petty Officer Shuler, son of Richard C. Shuler of Canton, joined the Navy in August 1990.
- U.S. Marine Corps Pfc. Sean Wall has reported for duty at Marine Barracks, Washington D.C. The private is a 1990 graduate of Salem High School and joined the Corps in March 1992. His parents, Donald and Dorothy Wall, reside in Canton.
- U.S. Air Force Senior Airman David Robertson has arrived for duty recently at the Osan Air Base, Songton, South Korea. Robertson is a security specialist. His mother resides in Canton Township. The airman is a 1988 graduate of a North Carolina high school.
- U.S. Army Spec. Pamela Kutscheid has recently completed an Army primary leadership course at Ft. Wainwright, Fairbanks, Alaska. The Army specialist is the daughter of Kathleen Kutscheid of Canton Township. During the course, Kutscheid received training in supervisory skills, leadership principles and small unit training techniques essential to a first-line supervisor in a technical or administrative environment.

"This is a very complicated, complex society," Googasian said, "and lawyers are a necessary part of the system. We're trying as a profession to put forth real solutions and correct the perception of dishonesty."

The State Bar of Michigan, Googasian added, has formed several committees to police "bad-apple" attorneys, provide a school for lawmakers to better understand the impact of legislation and domestic violence and child assistance programs. Also task forces are studying avenues for freeing up a log-jammed appellate court system.

"The system must be able to respond," he added. "Our problems are large. When teachers talked in 1940 of primary classroom problems involving chewing gum and talking, and today list suicide as the number one problem, we're in crisis and the burden falls on the legal system. These are the kinds of problems we have to address.

"Of course the system has problems and is flawed," he added, "that's why we keep working on it."

Quiz kids

7 students enter academic contest

By CRAIG GARRETT
ANP Staff Writer

Seven Canton High School students are headed for Florida and national competition on June 24-29 representing Michigan as academic quiz bowl champions.

Coch Scott Beaman said the team took top state honors from among 60 schools May 7 and 8 at St. Clair Community College quiz bowl activities in Port Huron.

Student contestants, Beaman said, participate in several tournaments throughout the state in something resembling the popular television program Jeopardy. Minor differences include the team aspect and no visual aids.

"The kids must listen closely," the 27-year veteran European/American history teacher said, "or they may miss the clue entirely. It's a lot of fun, but there's a lot of work that goes into this."

The Canton team includes four primary players including Captain Ju-Lin Wang and three teammates, Bryant Wu, Todd Price and Brian Sample. Piyush Bharti, Tim Simon and Justin Palk round out the highly academic group.

Competition, Wu said, means advancing four players against another team who field a variety of topical questions that might include, science, math, history, sports, music or literature. A foreign language question, for example, may be posed in a native tongue, he said. Contests squeeze hand-held buttons to answer and are penalized points for wrong responses.

"Actually," Wu, a U of M pre-med candidate, said, "this is very team oriented. Each one of us basically specializes in one or two areas and we all know that. You don't want to guess at something if you know someone else probably knows the answer. It's a lot of fun and it feels great to win."

Canton team members have received a number of local donations to make the June trip to Orlando, Beaman said, for a run at top honors. Victory means scholarship money and national recognition.

Glenn captures Western Lakes Division crown

By TOM MOORADIAN
ANP Staff Writer

After sweeping three victories from league opponents last week, Westland John Glenn High School players locked up the Lakes Division baseball title.

Whether Glenn coach Norm Hoenes and the Rockets will have the bragging rights for the conference, however, will depend on the outcome of their crossover game with Plymouth-Canton. Canton also clinched the Western Division title.

The two divisional champs were scheduled to play last night for the Western Lakes Conference championship.

In the meantime, Hoenes is getting ready the playoffs and stressed "that we can't rest on our laurels."

"It's nice winning the title," said Hoenes, whose teams have captured a half dozen conference titles over a span of 10 years. "But we got the playoffs and a tough Belleville team ahead of us. This one-game elimination format can kill you if you ease up."

Glenn will clash with highly-regarded Belleville, who beat one of the top Class A teams (Ann Arbor Pioneer) in the state last week, on Tuesday in a pre-district game. That pre-district game will determine which team will advance to the district playoffs hosted by Garden City High.

Belleville has never beaten

It's nice winning the title. But we got the playoffs and a tough Belleville team ahead of us. This one game elimination format can kill you if you ease up.

- Norm Hoenes
Glenn baseball coach

Glenn in a post-season game, and Tiger coach John Bertz is looking to break "the jinx".

"Our kids are anxious to play them," said Bertz. "They knocked us out (of the playoffs) the last two years, we're eagerly awaiting the rematch." The two teams are not strangers. In fact, many players are in the same lineup during the summer playing on federation and sandlot teams.

In fact, there may be a family feud brewing. Clint Kessler of Belleville and Aaron Scheffer from Glenn are first cousins.

Could fans see a possible pitching duel between these two outstanding players?

"It's possible," said Bertz. "Anything is possible. If Norm goes with Scheffer, I just may go with Kessler."

The winner of the pre-district will play Wayne Memorial in the semifinals. In the other semifinal bracket, Garden City will take on an improved Romulus. The semifinals will be staged on June 5 in Garden City Park. The two winners will decide who will be the district champ and advance to the regionals.

The district title will be decided at 3:30 p.m.

In action last week, Glenn erupted for six runs in the bottom of the third and put Stevenson away 14-0 in an abbreviated game called after five under the mercy rule. (Officials may stop the game after one team has built up a 10-run advantage).

Bryan Besco, who tossed a three-hitter for Glenn, struck out 11 and didn't allow a walk, picked up his sixth victory in seven starts. He gave way to Brian Morrison after four innings.

Matt Cogswell, tagged for 11 hits including a double and triple to Besco, was charged with the loss.

Scheffer also went two for two (both singles) at the plate, and Mike Bint drilled a two-run homer that cleared the

Barnett picks up 2 golds

Al Barnett proved on Saturday that he is in a class of his own.

The 18-year-old Belleville senior captured two regional gold medals in his specialty - the shot put and the discus - and will be among the top candidates to win a gold at the Class A state finals.

The state finals will be staged June 5 in Grand Rapids.

Barnett had the winning put at Novi - 56 feet, 7 inches. He came back for a second gold medal in the discus, with a winning toss of 146 feet, 5 inches. He left the rest of the field far behind.

Undefeated during the 1993 campaign, Barnett also is favored to win both events in the final Wolverine "A" Conference championships. The championships were hosted on Tuesday by Belleville. The host took an impeccable 7-0 record into the meet.

In what could be one of the most thrilling rematches of the track season, regional 400-meter relay champ, Wayne Memorial, will face Belleville for the third time this season.

Belleville's 400-lineup beat Wayne in a dual meet earlier this year. However, Wayne coach Floyd Carter had the winning combination at the regional.

In the regional rematch, Wayne's Brian Higgins, Rayshawn Jackson, Gerald Adams and Ron McClellan nipped the Tigers, the champs covering the distance in a 44.1.

The Belleville foursome of Curtis Lunsford, Mike Kendrick, Henry Parks and Chris Cannon finished with silver in 44.3. Both Wayne and Belleville qualified for the state finals in the event.

Lunsford also qualified in the 200 and 400-meter events. He was clocked in 22.6 for the 200 and he registered a 49.8 for the 400.

Although he didn't win a medal, Belleville soph Darren Hamilton will advance to the state finals after finishing fifth in the 800-meter run in 2:00.2. That performance meets the state-qualifying standard.

Belleville finished fourth in a field of 18 competing teams at Novi. The Tigers garnered 52 points. Detroit Catholic Central captured team honors at the regional.

'Spoilers' Tigers are ready for playoffs

After a heartbreaking, extra-inning loss at the hands of arch-rival, Wayne Memorial, Belleville bounced back to shock state-ranked Ann Arbor Pioneer, 9-7, on Friday after eking out a 3-1 victory over Fordson last Wednesday.

The Fordson victory provided Belleville coach John Bertz and the Tigers with their seventh Wolverine 'A' Conference win in 12 outings. The Tigers entered the final week of the regular season with an impressive 22-8 won-lost record.

Belleville and pitcher Ralph Truitt tainted the Pioneer's image as a state powerhouse as the Tigers raked Pioneer starter Brandon Herin and reliever Dave Kennedy for 11 hits.

Truitt, a junior southpaw, chalked up his fifth win in as many starts. He struck out three and walked an equal number.

The Tigers built up an 8-3 lead in the fifth before Pioneer countered with two two-run innings in the sixth and seventh.

Although they are out of the title picture, the Tigers could play the role of "spoilers" today when they travel to Monroe.

A bases-loaded single in the fifth by Clint Kessler that drove in Truitt, Richie Brennan and Charles Coleman gave the Tigers the lead for good. Brennan collected three of the Tiger 11 hits, including a double, two singles and drove in three runs. He also scored twice.

Truitt and Coleman each had two hits.

Belleville scored two runs in the first inning while Jeremy Gray fired a four-hitter in the Tigers 3-1 triumph over Fordson. In that inning, Brennan sliced a run-scoring single, chasing home Truitt. Brennan advanced to second via a stolen base, advanced to third on a sacrifice then stole home.

Belleville scored an insurance run in the fifth thanks to Chuck Coleman who ripped a single with Doug Walter aboard.

Although they are out of the title picture, the Tigers could play the role of "spoilers" today when they travel to Monroe. Monroe and Wyandotte are on top of the standings, and a Belleville victory would enhance the chances of Wyandotte and diminish those of Monroe of winning the last Wolverine "A" Conference baseball title. (The league will be dissolved after the current season.)

Belleville makes its bid for a district playoff bid on Tuesday when the Tigers travel to Garden City Park where they will take on defending district champ, Westland John Glenn. The game starts at 3:30 p.m. in GC municipal park. The park is located on Cherry Hill and Merriman Road.

Lynn wins 3 events, anchors 400-relay to 4th gold medal

Inkster's sensational sophomore sprinter Charnell Lynn sparked at the Class B regional track and field championships.

Lynn, considered one of the best young sprinters in the nation, captured three regional events and also anchored the Viking 400-meter relay team to a first place.

"She was just fantastic," said Inkster coach Keith Bailey. "What else can you say about her. The great thing about her is that she hasn't even come close to reaching her potential."

Lynn set a school record in winning the 100-meter dash in a superb 11.5. She also took a gold in the 200-meters, covering the distance in 25.5. She became a triple crown winner after the 400-meters, crossing the finish line in 58.3.

Bailey also had his protege in the 400-meter relay and the young anchor powered her team to a 52.2 for the gold. Lynn teamed up with Mariah Tatum, Faith Henderson and Temeka Gibson for the victory.

"Charnell ran in eight races on Saturday," Bailey pointed out, "and she finished first in all eight."

Single-handedly Charnell supplied the Vikings 33 1/2 of their 43 points.

River Rouge, with 82 points, captured the regional championship at Inkster. Grosse Ile, with 77, was runner-up, followed by Dearborn Divine Child and Ypsilanti Lincoln, which were tied for third with 73 points.

Inkster finished sixth and Robichaud was eighth (21) in a field of 17 teams.

Robichaud's Ivory Henderson qualified for the state finals in two events. The Robichaud hurdler finished second to Rouge's Kenyatta Grigsby in the 300-meter lows. Grigsby's winning time was posted at 47 flat, while Henderson ran a 48.8.

Belleville's Anne Gray also struck gold at Novi.

The superb distance runner toured the 3,200-meters in 11:34.8 to lead nemesis Livonia Stevenson's A.J. Koritnik across the finish line. Gray covered the distance in 11:34.8, while Koritnik was clocked in 11:35.

The two may met again on June 5 at the state finals in Grand Rapids.

In the meantime, Gray also walked off the field with a silver medal for her performance in the 1,600-meter run. This time, however, the Belleville senior found herself trailing Plymouth Canton's Lisa Boroditsch to the tape.

Boroditsch won the event with a 5:15.9, while Gray was clocked in 5:18.2.

Belleville also received an exceptional effort from its 3,200-meter relay team which met the state standard (10:39.8). Coach Sam Vicchy's lineup included Keely Burlew, Christee Maciejewski, Laurie Painter and Angie Pack.

Belleville finished eighth, team-wise, with 21 points. Tina Harmon also contributed a sixth-place finish to the Tiger cause in the 3,200-meters. She carded a 12:13.4.

Wayne Memorial qualified Kim Morrow and Tranessa Burroughs for the state championships.

Morrow placed third in the shot put with a put of 109 feet, 10 inches, while Burroughs shattered the school record in the 200-meters low hurdles.

Burroughs' 46.6 gave her the gold and also established her as one of the top candidates for a state medal.

"Tranessa's time for the event," noted Wayne coach Floyd Carter, "if not the fastest is one of the fastest this year."

In the meantime, Romulus was represented in the winner's circle by junior Phillip Franklin who won a gold medal in the 100-yard dash. He ran a 10.9.

Coach Norb Glover's 800-meter relay team of Thomas Taylor, Robert Craig, Lajaun Wilson and Franklin also will make the trip to Grand Rapids after finished second to Detroit Cody. Romulus's foursome carded a 1:30.8.

The Eagles also will be represented at Grand Rapids with miler Eric Newcomb who set a record in the 1,600 after finishing in 4:42.3. The previous mark was 4:32.6. Although the senior finished fourth, his time was within state-qualifying standards.

Joining Wayne's 400-meter relay team at state will be high-jumper Carl Olszewski who successfully negotiated 6 feet 4 inches. Although it was the third-best performance at Novi, it did meet the qualifying standard.

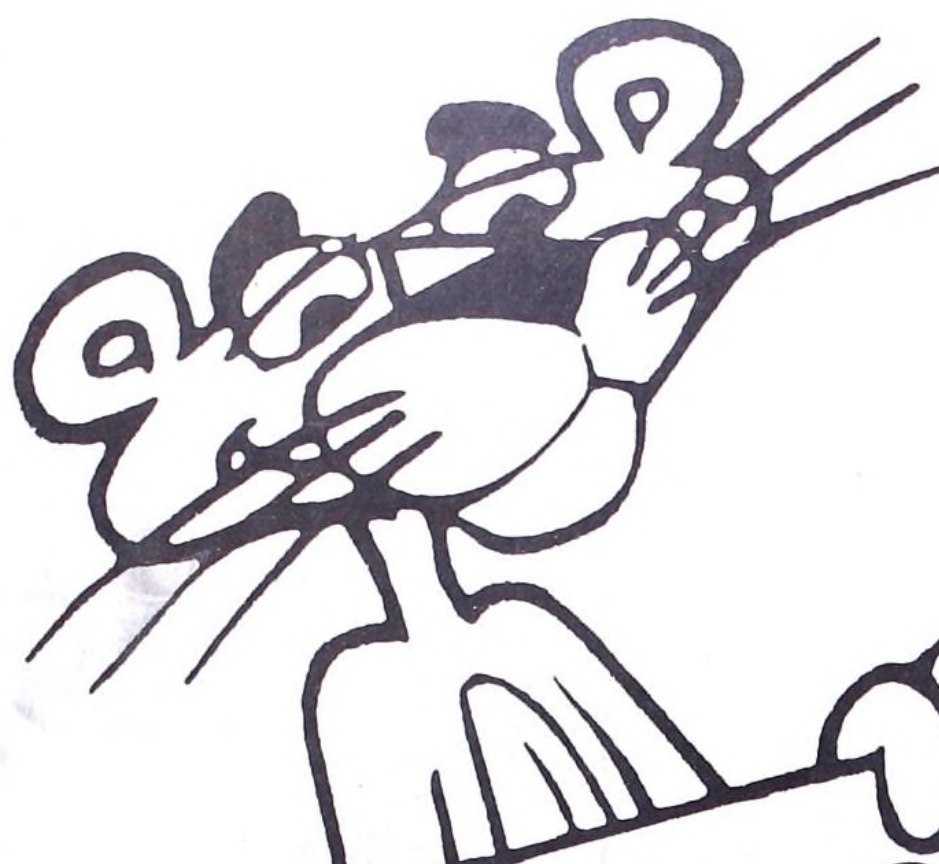

Wayne's Randy Johnson also qualified in the long jump (20 feet, 11), finishing second in the event, and in the 110-high hurdles where he finished fourth (15.0).

Adams, who finished third (20'11") also will get an opportunity to compete at state in the long jump. However, Fordson's Paul Abbott, who leaped 22 feet, 1 3/4 inches for the gold has the inside edge to win the conference gold.

Wayne awaits winners of Glenn, Belleville game

Wayne Memorial High School players will be sitting on the sidelines and watching with interest when Belleville and Westland John Glenn players take the field Tuesday at Garden City Park.

Coach Jim Chronowski's Zebras will catch the winner of the 3:30 p.m. pre-district game on June 5 in a semifinal round of the Class A baseball tournament.

Does Chronowski have a preference?

"Not really," said the veteran Wayne coach. "They are both exceptionally-talented teams this year. We played both teams and know what they can do."

In the upper bracket of the semis, Garden City will host Romulus at 10 a.m. on June 5. The district championship will be decided at 3:30 the same day.

In the meantime, Wayne chalked up two hard-earned victories over league rivals last week before the proverbial roof caved in on the Zebras Saturday at Garden City.

Wayne managed to edge Belleville 4-3 in extra innings last Monday then routed a young Lincoln Park club, 19-2, on Tuesday to lift its Wolverine "A" Conference record to 7-5 on the year.

However, on Saturday, Wayne dropped both ends of a twin bill to a fine-tuned Garden City baseball machine, 12-7, and 6-2 as its overall record dipped to 10-9 on the year.

After clashing with Fordson on Tuesday, Wayne will end an era today at Southgate Anderson. It will be the final Wolverine "A" game for the two teams. The league will be dissolved after the current school year.

Bill Romej of Wayne broke

"We didn't get the hits when it counted."

Jim Chronowski

up a three-all tie when he drilled a bottom of the ninth bases-loaded single that rocketed inches past infielder Jeremy Gray's glove for a single. That base hit scored Phil Snow with the winning run in the 4-3 Wayne victory.

Snow started the inning with a single off of losing pitcher Clint Kessler. Then, Tadd Kempainen put down a sacrifice bunt, advancing Snow to second. Kessler then intentionally walked Chris Moore and, when Jason Overton beat out a bunt, loading the bases, it set the stage for Jeremy Treppa. Treppa belted a fly ball to right fielder Ralph Truitt who hauled it in for the second out. Snow didn't score on the play.

With two away, Romej came up and drilled one of Kessler's pitches toward Gray who made an diving effort but just missed it.

Kessler, a senior southpaw, fanned four and gave up nine hits in 8 2/3 innings of work taking the loss.

The victory went to Dave Hemry, who went the distance, struck out six, walked four and pitched a six-hitter.

Belleville had its chances in the seventh when the Tigers stranded runners on first and second. But Hemry saved the day when Richie Brennan drilled the ball which was deflected off the Wayne hurler's leg. Hemry managed to retrieve the ball in time to throw out Brennan for the third and final out.

"It was an excellently-played game," noted Belleville coach John Bertz, "unfortunately, we lost it."

Belleville enjoyed a 2-0 top-of-the-second advantage when Kessler walked to lead off. He scored on Bob Sackrider's one-out double. Sackrider eventually came home on Matt Davenport's groundout.

Wayne came back in its second and grabbed a 3-2 advantage as Snow singled, advanced to third with Kempainen's double. Both runners scored when Chris Moore hammered a triple, and a throwing error led to Moore coming around for the third run.

Kempainen lifted his personal pitching record to 5-3 as he twirled a two-hitter in a 19-2 victory over Lincoln Park. Wayne batters enjoyed a field day as Jeff Tapp went three for three, including a single, double and a solo homer. He also scored five times after getting aboard twice on walks.

Snow also had three hits in as many appearances. He had two singles, a double and four runs batted in, and teammates Shannon Green finished the day with a perfect four for four - all singles. Romej chipped in with three singles and also scored three times. Jeremy Cox carded a pair of singles, a triple and four RBIs and Jeremy Treppa went three for three, including a pair of singles and a triple.

Chronowski could have used some of those RBI hits against Garden City. The Wayne coach watched as his club stranded 12 runners on the base paths in the 6-2 loss.

"We didn't get the hits when it counted," said Chronowski. "We had the chances, but didn't make good of them."

The senior right-hander notched nine strikeouts, walked two and gave up four hits. In the meantime, the crafty Williams, in taking the loss, whiffed 12, walked three and pitched a three-hitter.

scare before losing a 2-1 decision to the divisional champs.

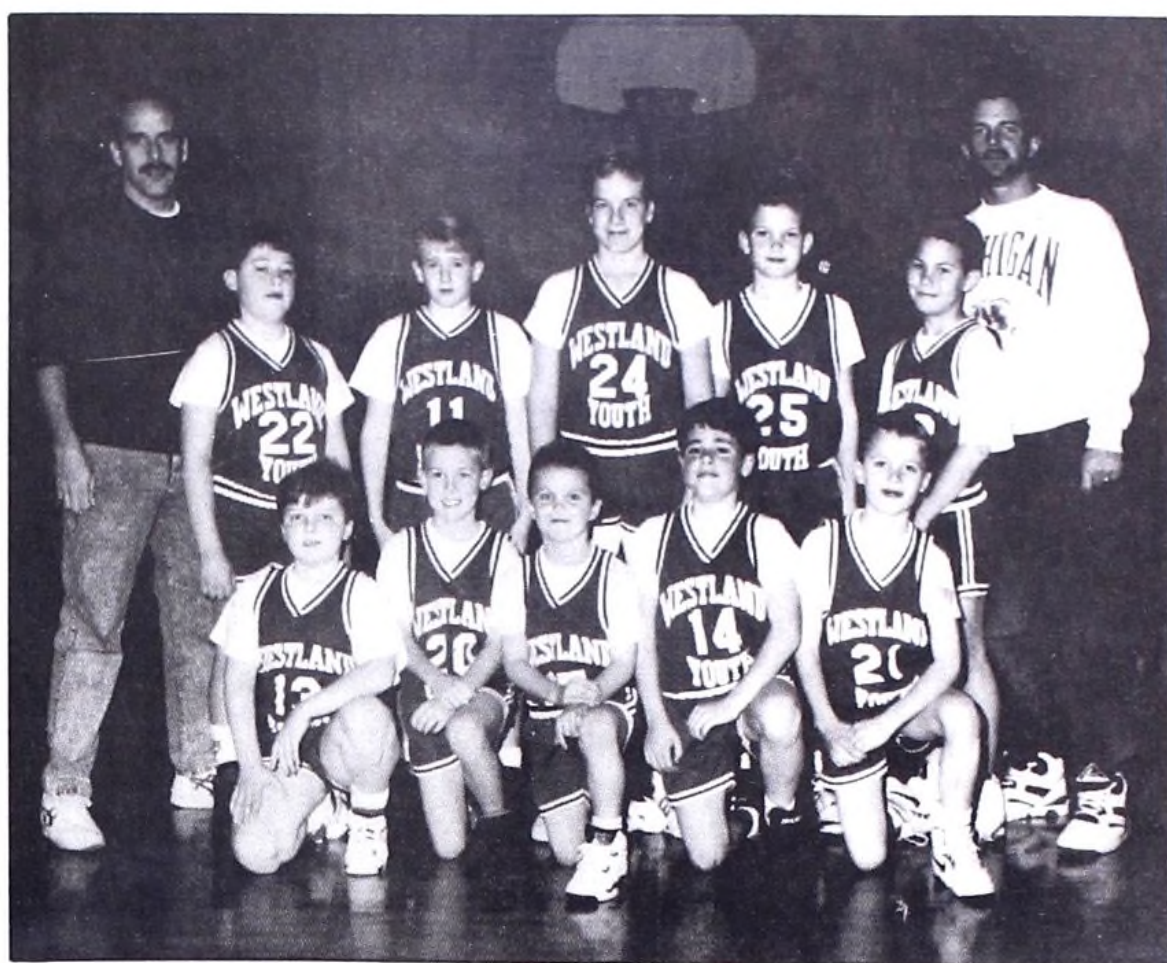

With Scheffer and his protagonist, southpaw Dale Williams, gathering goose eggs most of the afternoon, the game ultimately was decided in the bottom of the sixth when the Westlanders erased a 1-0 decision.

In that inning, Bryan Besco walked, and was sacrificed to second by Jeremy Crosby. Brian Besco walked putting Glenn runners on first and second. A wild pitch move them up, then Bint blasted an up-the-middle base hit scoring the tying and what proved to be the winning run.

Farmington entered the contest with nothing to lose and a 2-7 record as opposed to the Glenn 19-3 and 9-1 mark.

Scheffer gave up a lead off walk and a double that opened the door to the first-inning Farmington run.

Unheralded Farmington gave the title-bound Rockets a 'Perfect champs'

It's never too late to pay tribute to some champs. The Lakers, competing in the Westland Youth Athletic Association (WYAA) basketball league, captured the 1993 freshmen division championship with a perfect 14-0 record. The team, under the guidance of Dennis Nowak and Steve Patterson, swept through the regular season with an untainted mark and capped the year by winning the WYAA freshman tournament for 8-9-10 year olds. Members of the championship team included: Bobby Allen (front row, left to right), Billy Gaszi, Matt Nowak, Matt Patterson and Shane Nowak; in the second row are coach Patterson, Matt Steede, Aaron Wilson, Derek Sullivan, Rick Londborg, Ryan Silva and coach Nowak. The Glenn hurler lost his no-hitter in the top of the seventh when Charles Winston sliced a single to right center. "I didn't realize he (Besco) had a no-hitter going for him," said Hoenes. "He pitched an exceptional game."

Besco fanned seven and walked one for the victory. Loser Dan Quain got in trouble early, allowing four runs in the first inning before settling down.

THE INCURABLES

Wayne-Westland graduates take top billing at clubs

Their name sort of says it all. The incurable desire of the members of The Incurables is to take their band as far along the road to success as possible.

On June 3 residents in western Wayne County will have the opportunity to listen to The Incurables, a new age band which consists of a group of Wayne Memorial and John Glenn high school graduates at the Goudy Park amphitheater.

The band members include Pat Kelly-guitarist/vocalist, Chuck Byberg-guitar, Darrin Lawson-drums/vocalist and Ray Lawson-base/vocalist.

The play new age music which is described by the band as music having a "hard edge, pop alternative."

Lawson and Kelly started the band six years ago.

"Me and Pat have been playing together since high school," Lawson said. "We formed The Incurables band after high school. My cousin, Darrin, joined us after our first drummer had an accident and was no longer able to play with us."

Byberg joined The Incurables approximately 1 1/2 years ago. He said the group mainly plays original tunes.

"We've performed in many communities throughout Michigan including Hamtramck and at the Ritz," Byberg said. "What I enjoy most is having the opportunity to get out and play original stuff and have the audience really get into it."

The Incurables have cut two tapes/CDs which include Look In Your Mind and The Incurables.

"We're constantly looking for different places to play," Lawson said. "We would love to have a record contract, but right now that's not our ultimate goal."

"We want to be able to play for many more clubs. I think one of our biggest goals would be to perform the opening act at Pine Knob."

Lawson described the band's music as "power pop."

"It's not hard rock or mellow," Lawson said. "There are some pieces which are danceable. As a group we try to come up with a variety of pieces for everyone to enjoy."

The Incurables will perform 7:30 p.m. June 3 at the amphitheater in Goudy Park in Wayne. The concert is free to the public.

Other concerts scheduled for 7:30 p.m. at the amphitheater in June include: Bob Durant (dixie land)-June 10; Country Show Down-June 13; Cosmopolitan Big Band-June 17 and Waco Band (country)-June 24.

In July the Guy Lombardo Band is scheduled for the 8th, Hot Walker (country) will perform July 15, Charlie G's Jazz Band will have fingers snapping July 22 and feet will be tapping with Jim Frobe Dance on July 29.

A Motown Festival has been organized for July 11 which includes: Harmonix (R & B), Street Corner (50s & 60s), The Dancing Cousins (Hawaiian), tie dying, caricature drawings, cookout by the Kiwanis Club and more.

In August a Dixie Jamboree is scheduled with the following events: Kitchen Bands, McKinney Cottonpickers, Barber Shoppers, ice cream sale by the Rotary Club, old fashion picnic games and a cookout by the Lions Club.

Other August events at the amphitheater include: Ron Coden Musical Comedy-Aug. 5; Johnny Trudell (jazz)-Aug. 12; Harmonix-Aug. 19 and Bobby Lewis (pop)-Aug. 26.

This fall the amphitheater will highlight the Novi Concert Band on Sept. 2 and Nightline (jazz) on Sept. 9.

On Sept. 25 Kids Day is scheduled. David Parker will provide an exotic animal show.

Resident provides afternoon 'lunch-in-the-park' music

By MARGO DEWEY
ANP Feature Editor

It's always enjoyable to stroll through Goudy Park in Wayne, and soon residents may be "munching" to a different beat as the multi-talented Tyrone Hamilton takes center stage at the amphitheater June 3 to Sept. 13.

Hamilton, a Wayne resident, will bring his unique piano rhythms to the park for residents to enjoy during their lunch hours 11:30 a.m. to 1:30 p.m. every Thursday in the summer.

"I'll be playing a mixture of soft music so people can eat and enjoy the tunes," Hamilton said. "I'm really looking forward to this opportunity. I just hope the rain stays away."

Hamilton said he will be open to requests from the audience. In addition to his original music, he will also perform pieces from other pop artists.

Hamilton is one of a six-member band-The Harmonix. Most recently he decided to assist another band-Avenue.

"I like to try and help other people who are trying to get into the business," Hamilton said. "With Avenue we performed last Friday and did a jam at the Office Lounge. It was very successful."

Tyrone Hamilton

Concessions will be available if residents do not bring their lunch.

Hamilton has been playing piano since he was 11 years old. The Harmonix formed June 27, 1992.

"We knew each other some time before we worked together," Hamilton said. "We play jazz, R & B, blues, soul and motown music."

Besides playing for groups or organizations, Hamilton also displays his talent at weddings.

Hamilton said he takes life one day at a time and thanks God for his talent.

"If it weren't for God, I wouldn't be able to play," Hamilton said.

Hamilton personally enjoys R & B music as well as Motown. He began his musical career with his four brothers and one sister.

"When we were children, we would sing and play instruments together," Hamilton said. "We were very close. I owe a great deal to my mother and father (Mary and David Hamilton) who supported me."

There is no admission fee for any of the concerts in Goudy Park.

Wayne resident Tyrone Hamilton is a firm believer in helping others achieve success with their music. He enjoys creating his original pieces. Hamilton has traveled throughout Michigan playing for audiences of all sizes. ANP photo by DIVIZIO

United effort Communities unite in Rouge clean-up effort

By MARGO DEWEY
ANP Feature Editor

Several western Wayne County communities are assisting the county, state and federal government with stopping pollution and cleaning up the Rouge River basin.

Rouge basin communities are now required by the federal government and Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) to meet national clean water regulations and clean up non-complying systems. The goal, according to Wayne City Engineer Ramzi El-Gharib, is to make the Rouge fishable and swimmable by the year 2005.

"Certain sewers during heavy storms overflow into the Rouge River from the area north of Annapolis Street between Wayne and Howe roads and from part of Woodbrook subdivision," El-Gharib said. "Combined Sewer Overflows (CSOs) are the raw sewage discharges that occur when rainstorms or snow melt off (wet weather) and overload a combined storm and sanitary sewer forcing the overflow into nearby streams and rivers. This design is no longer acceptable and must be corrected."

To clean up the Rouge within the federal and state mandated 12-year time span will cost $12 million, according to El-Gharib.

"Various communities will have to eliminate the combined sewer overflows or the discharges of raw sewage into the Rouge River by Dec. 31, 1997," El-Gharib said.

"We have two alternatives. At this time we are conducting the Project Performance Certi-

"Federal grants and low interest financing for construction will be critical to this project's success."

fication where we have to monitor the sanitary flows. This program has been in effect since January of this year and has to continue until January of 1994."

James Murray, Wayne County Department of Public Works director, is spearheading the cleanup effort for the Rouge. Nine Wayne County communities including Inkster, Westland, Wayne and Romulus are working closely with Murray to obtain federal grants for construction.

"Federal grants and low interest financing for construction will be critical to this project's success," El-Gharib said. "With the Rouge River National Wet Weather Demonstration Project, Wayne County is the recipient of the $46 million federal grant."

All other communities involved with this project, which the City of Wayne is a major part, will be the sub-grantees. Of the total grant amount, $16,065,683 has been budgeted for disbursement to sub-grantees for the planning and design of CSO solutions, according to El-Gharib.

"The maximum allowable amount for the City of Wayne will be the lower value of $734,880 which will be used just for design and planning the CSOs," El-Gharib said.

"How are we going to plan them? We can use the existing combined sewer as just the sanitary sewer and we'll build new storm sewers in this area. So that way we'll just have those storms going directly to the river which is not polluted."

There are, however, quite a few basement drains, illegal hookups and infiltration flows that cannot be controlled, according to El-Gharib.

The city could receive additional grants from the federal government for the CSO project.

"We have three options," he added. "The first is separation which is the cheapest and can be done for $6 or $7 million. The second option is separation plus equalization basin. With this process we would retain the excess flow from a storm for half-an-hour and after the storm is done, we would discharge the excess into the system so it wouldn't flow into the river."

The third option is to build a combined sewer overflow basin.

"With this basin we don't build a separation," El-Gharib said. "We just build a huge basin and do some primary treatment such as chlorination. This is the most expensive process."

If constructing a basin is the option selected by the city, the project deadline would then be extended until Dec. 31, 1999.

"This is a worldwide project," El-Gharib said. "It's a worldwide problem too. All eyes of the world are looking at this project because if it works, then other countries are going to follow the process."

El-Gharib said if a new basin is constructed it should last forever. The City of Wayne, however, would then have to establish a new maintenance department just to monitor the basin, according to El-Gharib.

"Right now the concentration is on sanitary flows and sanitary treatment," El-Gharib said. "In the future, I see we're going to have to treat storm water. Why? When it rains, you have fertilizers from lawns, asphalt from parking lots and you have oil. All of those are pollutants."

"They are all going into our streams and rivers."

CITY OF BELLEVILLE NOTICE OF A PUBLIC HEARING ON INCREASING PROPERTY TAXES

PLEASE TAKE NOTICE that on Monday, June 7, 1993 at 7:30 p.m. at the Belleville City Hall, 6 Main Street, Belleville, Michigan, the City Council of the City of Belleville will hold a Public Hearing on the levying in 1993 of an additional proposed millage rate of 1.260 for operating purposes pursuant to Act 5, Public Acts of Michigan, 1982.

The City of Belleville has the complete authority to establish that twenty (20) mills be levied in 1993 from within its present authorized millage rate.

The maximum additional proposed millage rate would increase revenues for operating purposes from ad valorem property tax levies in 1993 otherwise permitted by Act 5, Public Acts of Michigan, 1982 by 8.21%.

The figure for increase in revenue for operating purposes is based on the latest estimate of state equalized valuation of property located within the city. State equalized valuation will not be finalized until after the fourth Monday in May. In the event that state equalized valuation as finalized is for any reason higher than the estimate used for this hearing, the City of Belleville must hold another Public Hearing before levying millage on any high valuation.

The purpose of the hearing is to receive testimony and discuss the levy of an additional millage rate. Not less than seven (7) days following the Public Hearing, the City of Belleville may approve all or any portion of the proposed additional millage rate.

This notice is given by order of the Council of the City of Belleville.

Sentencing date set in gun assault

A Wayne man charged with assault with a dangerous weapon is expected to be sentenced July 12 in Detroit Wayne County Recorder's Court before Judge Harvey Tennen.

James Brock, 22, was dependent over losing his job, and he pointed a gun at his girlfriend 8 p.m. March 16 at his home on Hayes Street, according to Wayne police Lt. Mel Drews.

"He was arraigned March 31, and a not-guilty plea was entered," Drews said. "At the April 12 examination, a $15,000 bond was set or 10 percent cash."

No injuries occurred during the incident. Brock released his girlfriend to police before the arrest took place.

Dr. Pitts is chief of Psychiatry at Annapolis Hospital-Westland Center. The center is one of the first in the nation to offer a holistic approach to addictive behaviors.

TODAY, TREATMENTS FOR ALCOHOLISM ARE MANY

by Kenneth Pitts, M.D.

Alcoholism is a complicated problem involving a wide variety of cultures and stemming from many different causes. Recognizing this, mental health professionals today are discovering several different methods for treating the disease.

Acupuncture produces endorphins which boost the body's capacity to cope with stress and alter cravings for addictive substances. Relaxation techniques/stress reduction therapies, such as yoga, exercise, meditation, and massage, have proven successful in revitalizing the body and mind, reducing tension, ridding the body of toxins, improving circulation, and giving an individual greater control over his/her addiction.

Detoxification may be the initial treatment for people who need hospitalization to stop their alcohol abuse. After their hospital stay, outpatient programs are available such as Day Treatment Programs or Intensive Outpatient Programs (IOP).

Support groups, such as Alcoholics Anonymous, have long been successful in treating the addicted individual.

Individual and group therapy is helpful in treating alcoholism, most often when combined with another treatment.

Family therapy helps the patient and family members understand how the family may have influenced the addictive behaviors. It also teaches the family how to be a supportive network for their loved one.

Taking Antabuse, a chemical that makes people sick if they consume alcohol, is another treatment method.

Nutrition restoration accelerates the healing process by helping the body detoxify and rebuild. Through a proper diet, symptoms such as cravings, depression, anxiety, fatigue, and mental confusion are eliminated.

The most important thing to keep in mind when considering treatment options is that not any one program will work for everyone. The addicted individual needs to be carefully and thoroughly assessed before an appropriate treatment program can be designed.

Quote of the Week

"This is a difficult era for juveniles. It is the first generation that will not do better than their parents, and who are in danger of being worse off. They face a drug problem, an educational system that is lacking and a society that is so fast paced that it doesn't have time for the needs of youth."

Van Buren Township Supervisor David Jacobes commented on the need for juvenile programs.

Of Note

Supreme Court rules in couple's favor

A Canton Township couple learned Tuesday they won a victory of sorts to continue home-schooling their children, under certain state guidelines, following a Michigan Supreme Court ruling.

By a 5-2 vote, the state high court will allow John and Sandra Bennett, who had pulled four children from Plymouth-Canton classrooms in 1985, to home-school upon meeting Michigan Department of Education requirements. The decision also overturns and vacates a 1986 four-count conviction for misdemeanor truancy violations.

Parents do not have the right under the Fourteenth Amendment to direct their children's secular education free from reasonable regulation, Justice James Brickley wrote. But the Bennetts are entitled, as administrators of a private home school, to a Department of Education hearing as provided by the private and parochial schools act to determine whether their home school meets the requirements of the act before they could be prosecuted for failing to send their children to school in violation of the compulsory education laws.

Crisis team responds to murder-suicide

Plymouth-Canton school officials said Thursday crisis response teams were made available to district students and teachers following a murder-suicide in Plymouth Township.

The all-day crisis response effort followed the shooting death of Janette Madsen in her home by her estranged husband, Donald, early Wednesday. The couple's two children, 8-year-old Daniel, and 15-year-old Kimberly, are students respectively at Bird Elementary and Canton High School. Both youngsters were home at the time of the shooting and discovered their mother's body. Donald Madsen was found dead Thursday in Northville Township.

"The crisis team and the counselors recognize that students sometimes just need a listening ear to be able to express their concerns," school spokesman Richard Egli said. "That's one of the values of having counselors and a (staff) crisis team."

Memorial Day observance slated

Free admission to the Yankee Air Museum will be featured at the annual Memorial Day observance at Willow Run Airport.

The ceremony scheduled to honor those who died in the service of their country is slated at 1 p.m. May 31 at the airport, located on Beck Road in Van Buren Township.

On display will be artifacts from World War I, World War II, and the post World War II-era plus exhibits about women in aviation, model aircraft and memorabilia from the Yankee Air Force.

Featured during the day will be museum tours, antique cars, military vehicles, aircraft displays and refreshments. A pancake breakfast will be served between 8 a.m. and noon.

Police arrest suspected serial killer of 6

By TOM MOORADIAN
ANP Staff Writer

Inkster police arrested a 35-year-old drifter whom they believe may be the serial killer of six area women.

The suspect, Rodney Haley, was arraigned Thursday on first-degree murder charges before 22nd District Court Judge Sylvia James.

Haley is accused in the strangulation death of Lavette Knight, one of six Inkster women who were raped and murdered during the past three years.

Inkster Detective Charles Hines and Michigan State Police Trooper Leonard Goretski arrested Haley in a Salvation Army Adult Rehabilitation Center located in Romulus.

"Mr. Haley is specifically being charged in the strangulation death of Lavette Knight," said Hines. "We are also investigating the possibility that he was involved in the deaths of several other local women who were killed here and in neighboring communities."

Knight's body was discovered between two houses Dec. 16, 1991. She was the sixth of a series

"We are also investigating the possibility that he was involved in the deaths of several other local women who were killed here and in neighboring communities."

Inkster Detective Charles Hines

of women who were killed in the city of Inkster. There were enough similarities in the murders to indicate that all of the killings may be linked to one person.

The alleged serial killer's victims included Glenda Tatum, who was found on Feb. 28, 1989 in a garage in the 3800 block of Ash Street in the south corner of Inkster.

Then, in the same year, on June 15, Kim Shorter's body was discovered in a field in the area of Walnut and Carlyle near the Inkster Golf and Athletic Club. Shorter also was strangled and sexually assaulted.

Then, on Sept. 27, 1989, Linette Bolding's body was found in an abandoned house located in the 28300 block of Cherry Street, only a few blocks away from where the other victims had been killed.

On Oct. 27, 1989, police found the body of Crystal Perkins, who police said died of strangulation and was raped.

However, the next victim - Rene Kendrick didn't fit the mode the apparent serial killer followed. Unlike the other victims, whose bodies were discovered in fields or alongside vacant homes, Kendrick was found bound and gagged under a mattress in a burning abandoned house in the 3700 block of Ash. She, too, had been sexually assaulted.

Haley surrendered to Hines and Goretski without incident at the center, according to Hines who would not reveal what evidence police have linking the suspect to the Knight murder-rape.

Homosexual rape ends in stabbing death

By JENNIFER PLACINTO
ANP Staff Writer

A homosexual rape led to the stabbing death of a Westland man, according to Westland 18th District Court testimony last Thursday.

Jeffrey Dansby, 42, was stabbed to death by Christopher Kent Young, 39, of Inkster after forcing Young to have sex with him by holding a knife to his throat, Westland Police Sgt. Donald Haigh testified.

When Dansby set the knife down, Young pushed him away, retrieved the knife and a struggle ensued, Haigh testified. During the struggle Dansby was stabbed three times in the chest and three times in his back right shoulder.

The testimony from Haigh was presented during a preliminary examination for Young, who is charged with second-degree murder.

Dansby's body was found in the bedroom of his Blue Garden apartment on Cherry Hill between Merriman and Venoy roads on March 22. Police located the body after being notified that Dansby was missing. Police believe Dansby was dead two days prior to the discovery of his body.

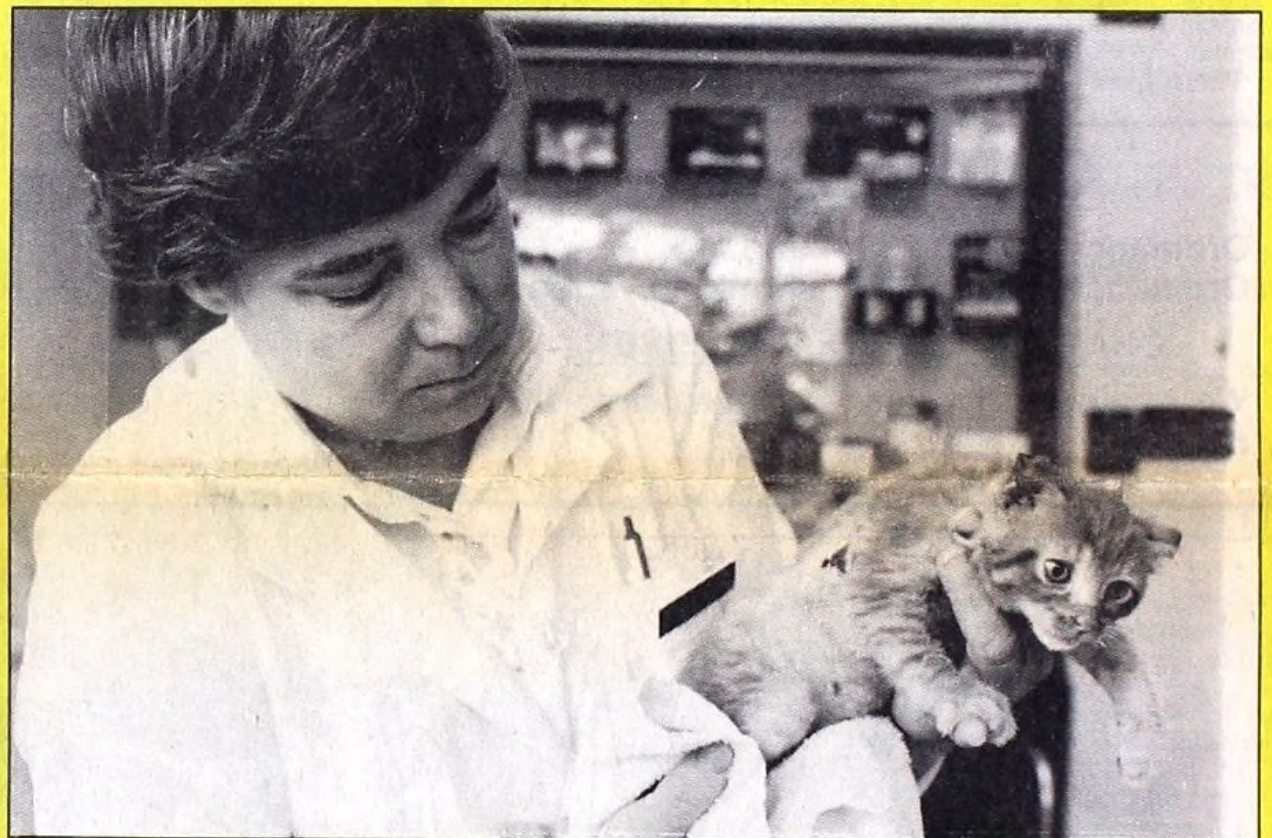

Young is also being accused of stealing a video cassette recorder, television set, and stereo which police allege he loaded into Dansby's car and fled the scene, Haigh said before the trial.

Although Young allegedly admitted to murdering Dansby during police interviews, the judge entered a plea of not guilty. Young did not admit to killing Dansby until he failed a polygraph test on May 7, Haigh said.

A former co-worker, who requested anonymity said Young was formerly employed at the Wayne County Department of Public Services in Westland where he had worked from 1988 until last summer, when he was fired. He reportedly had been a county employee for about 15 years.

The co-worker claimed that Young is the son of Clarence Young, now deceased, who served as a Wayne County Commissioner from 1977 through 1991.

Judge C. Charles Bokos ordered Young to stand trial for second-degree murder in Detroit Recorder's Court June 3.

A 6-week-old kitten is in intensive care at the Michigan Humane Society (MHS) Veterinary Hospital in Westland after being set on fire by an Inkster man last Thursday, Humane Society officials said.

Witnesses saw the 18-year-old Inkster man pour a flammable liquid on the kitten and ignite it with a pocket lighter, senior cruelty investigator Tim Clements said.

MHS rescue personnel responded to a call from Inkster Police and transported the severely burned kitten to their Westland hospital. The Inkster man has been identified and will face charges of cruelty and maliciously injuring an animal. MHS is investigating the incident.

The Inkster owner of the kitten has given him to the Michigan Humane Society due to the costs of intensive care treatment. The kitten suffered first, second and third degree burns, MHS veterinarians said. The kitten, named Scottie, will remain at the Westland hospital until he has recovered and can be placed in a permanent home.

Scottie is improving and chances are good he will survive, Supervisory Veterinarian Dr. Heather Ferguson said. However, Ferguson said, it is difficult for animals to recuperate from burns due to the chance of infection. Ferguson said the first four weeks are critical.

Clerks' predictions mixed on voter turnout

The debate over the pros and cons of Proposal A will end on Wednesday as state voters head for the ballot box to decide whether they want to increase the sales tax 50 percent in exchange for property tax and school finance reform.

The proposal, if approved, will increase the sales tax from 4 to 6 cents on the dollar while capping the assessment increases at 5 percent annually or the rate of inflation, whichever is less.

The proposal also would constitutionally dedicate funds for local schools and set a per-pupil funding guarantee.

Despite the rhetoric and the controversy over the past four months, local election officials say they do not expect record voter participation.

In fact, Inkster City Clerk Delphine Oden said that she would be surprised if 15 percent of the 19,837 registered voters took their time to vote.

"It's presidential elections that bring the voters to the polls," Oden said. "Even though Proposal A has been on the front pages of most of the newspapers and has been debated on radio and TV, I really don't see a large turnout."

"If it goes over 20 percent, I would consider

"Even though Proposal A has been on the front pages of most of the newspapers and has been debated on radio and TV, I really don't see a large turnout."

that good."

The polls open at 7 a.m. and will close at 8 p.m.

In Wayne, City Clerk Doris Nall expects a stronger turnout for the June 2 election from among the 10,711 registered voters.

Wayne will not be using a paper ballot, according to Nall.

"We won't be using a paper ballot because our voting devices are not used by the schools," Nall said.

Wayne council members did adopt a resolution in support of Proposal A earlier this month. In addition to Proposal A, residents will also take a stand on the prevailing wage ordinance in the city.

The ballot question will read as follows: The City of Wayne has enacted ordinance 1992-31 which requires that any contractor awarded a construction contract involving a city project costing in excess of $50,000 must compensate its employees at a rate not less than the wage and fringe benefit(s) rate prevailing in accordance with the most recent Michigan Department of Labor prevailing wage survey.

A referendum has been filed placing the issue on the ballot. Are you for the ordinance or against the ordinance?

Prevailing Wage is the product of the Davis-Bacon Act, a law which was approved in 1931 to protect construction workers from being exploited.

State prevailing wage rates are established when Wage Hour Division officials survey the building trades, according to Georgia Harris, program evaluation manager for the Department of Labor Wage and Hour Division.

"We establish rates for more than 150 different classifications of construction mechanics in each of the 83 counties of this state," Harris said. "We ask for the basic hourly rate and fringe benefit contributions which when added together make up the total prevailing wage rate."

Canton Township Clerk Loren Bennett said each of the 24 township precincts are "gearing up" for an anticipated 40 percent turnout at the polls Wednesday.

"That very well may not be the number we hit," Bennett said, "but it's best to over prepare ourselves than not be ready."

Returning absentee ballots counts, Bennett said, are running strong in conjunction with the number mailed. Nearly all precincts have reported high return figures through Friday, or roughly 2,351 received of 3,679 mailed.

"There's definitely a lot of interest for Proposal A," Bennett added.

Voter turnout in the City of Westland is expected to be low for ballot Proposal A Wednesday, Deputy Clerk Patricia Gibbons said.

Gibbons said she expects a 20 percent turnout. As of Thursday, 2,400 absentee ballots had been mailed.

Gibbons did not believe having the ballot proposal election on a Wednesday would be a problem. Although it is not common to have city elections on Wednesday, Gibbons said she did not believe voter turnout would be any lower than usual.

"There's been enough publicity on the proposal that people who want to vote will come," she said.

Van Buren Township Clerk Cindy King predicted a voter turnout of 10 percent or a bit more.

"When Rep. Deborah Whyman presented an informational talk on Proposal A here, she said a state-wide poll had predicted a 10 percent turnout of registered voters," King said. "I think that is a fair guess, but we might get a higher turnout because it is a money issue. Election issues involving money usually bring out more voters."

King does not expect to see the record crowds at the polls that we present in the presidential election last November.

"The Wednesday election may seem odd to some voters, but there was a good reason for setting that day for the election. Because there are no local issues on the ballot along with Proposal A, the state must pick up the cost of the election. If the election had been scheduled on Tuesday, the clerks' offices would have had to call their employees in on Memorial Day to prepare for the election, and, in many instances, pay them double time - an added cost that would have been charged to the state," King said.

Belleville City Clerk Agnes Frisch is unsure about the turnout for the June 2 ballot.

In Romulus, City Clerk Linda Choate expects only about 2,000 voters to turn out Wednesday's to vote on tax reform Proposal A.

Choate said she has no feeling one way or the other on the pending outcome, but said "those opposed to the proposal have definitely been more vocal."

Romulus voters will be using paper ballots in this election, Choate said, since there is another election (for school board candidates) on June 14.

Since state election officials impound voting machines until the votes are made official, Choate opted instead to have this election by paper ballot.

But that decision has created some supply problems, she admitted, but area communities have chipped in to help out.

"Most of this office staff have never worked--or even voted--in a paper ballot election," she chuckled.

State election officials have given Choate 400 ballots for each of the 17 city precincts. "I'd love to think 400 per precinct will turn out on Wednesday, but I tend to doubt it since often we only get 1,200 to 1,500 for primaries and other special elections."

Choate had to borrow old style voting booths from Detroit, instruction books from Redford and Hamtramck (since none were supplied by the state) and special ballot storage bags from Inkster.

Memorial event marks start of summer season

A 45-minute tribute to fallen war heroes will be offered at noon Sunday at the new Romulus Veterans' Memorial on Wayne Road, adjacent to Romulus City Hall.

The service is being coordinated by Veteran of Foreign Wars Post 9568 Commander Orrin Prosser and will include the post honor guard.

In case of inclement weather; the service will be conducted at the post headquarters at 39270 Huron River Drive.

A brief 10 a.m. Memorial Day tribute to fallen war heroes from Romulus also will be offered at the Veterans Memorial by the local Democratic Club. A wreath will be placed on the monument, according to club chairman Jim Napiorkowski, who also is city treasurer.

Meanwhile, the Greater Romulus Chamber of Commerce and city Recreation Department are putting the final touches on the summer plans for the city that will include a free fireworks on July 4, two performances by the Franzen Brothers Circus on July 7, a basketball camp sponsored by home-grown National Basketball League stars Terry Mills and Grant Long on July 19, 20 and 21 and the Senior Olympics slated to be held in Romulus Aug. 2 through Aug. 6.

According to Rick Doane,

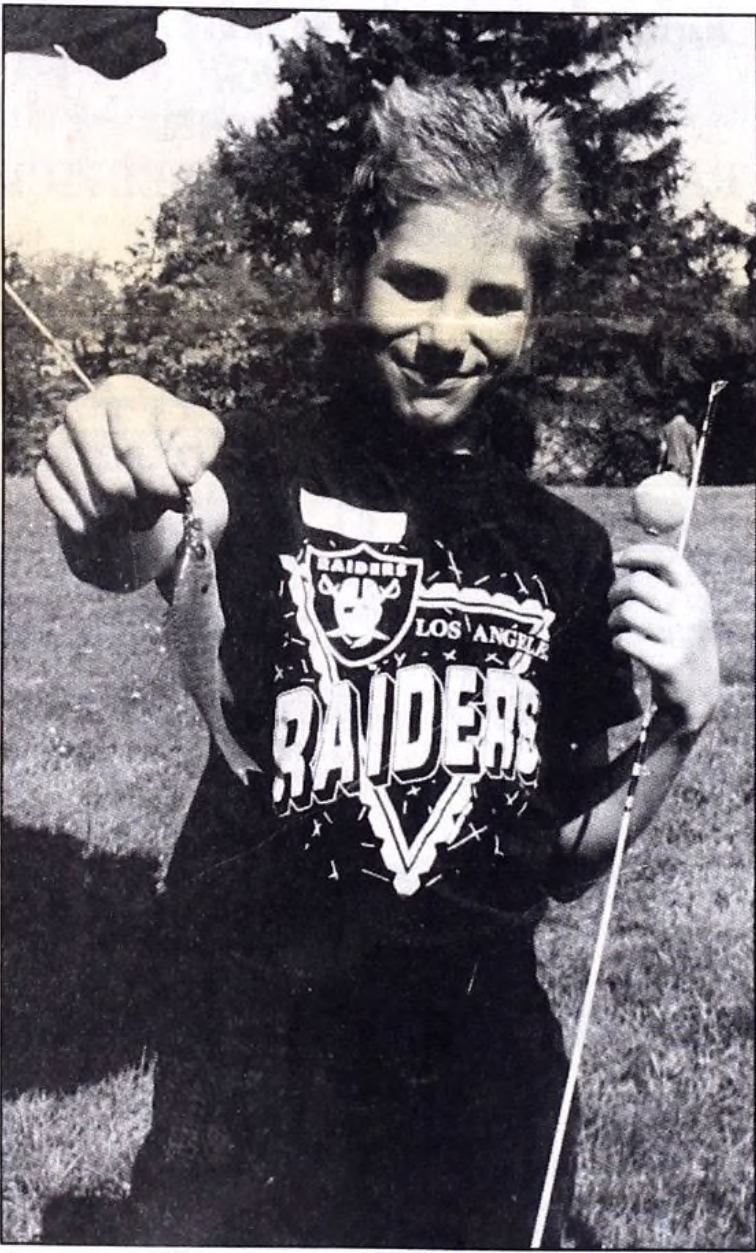

Recreation Department program coordinator, a major summer youth playground activity will begin a six-week series of events on June 28. The programs including indoor and outdoor games, arts and crafts projects and other activities will be staged at Cory, Barth, Hale Creek and Merrick schools and other activities will be staged at Cory, Barth, Hale Creek and Merrick schools and the Civic League. The programs will begin at 10 a.m. every Monday through Thursday (except Senior Olympic Week) and conclude at 3 p.m. each day.

On Fridays of each week youth will also be offered a chance to travel to an area amusement area such as Greenfield Village or the Detroit Zoo for a cost of between $4 and $6, Doane said. The cost will cover every thing except lunch, he said, so participants are urged to bring a sack lunch.

A city youth football league for boys and girls between the ages of 7 to 14 will be held after July 4 at Elmer Johnson Park. The playing times have yet to be finalized.

The individual cost of the program is $20, Doane said, with maximum family cost $30. Scholarships are available for those area families needing financial assistance.

Holiday launches summer season

Traditionally, the three-day Memorial Day weekend officially launches the summer season.

It's the time to fire up the picnic grills, carry out the patio furniture, find the frisbees and hang up the hammock. This weekend is the beginning of fun in the sun - the start of the too-quickly-over summer season.

The time is here to pack away the snowboots and heavy sweaters and to bring out the white sandals and swimsuits. After a long, dreary winter, the season of outdoor fun, recreation and relaxation has arrived.

However, Memorial Day is more than a day for picnics, car races and family celebrations - it is a day to remember those who died in the service of our country.

It is the one day of the year set aside to honor the memory of the men and women who have died to keep America free. It is a time to help Americans understand that the freedoms we often take for granted were made possible by extreme service and sacrifice.

Whether we attend a formal observance of Memorial Day or merely pause from our activities for a quiet moment, let us all remember those who gave their lives in the defense of our freedoms.

Van Buren Parks opened for the summer season this weekend with a variety of activities available for local residents.

The 101-acre park features a picnic area with grills, beach, playgrounds, horseshoe pits, two volleyball courts, baseball diamonds and a nature center.

One of the most popular activities at the park is the annual visit of the Princess Laura, a replica of a Mississippi riverboat which offers cruises on Belleville Lake.

2,500 marchers featured in Inkster Memorial Day Parade

Is there a better way to kick off the summer than with a parade.

That's how the residents of the city of Inkster will begin their summer fun.

On Monday, hundreds will line the curbs to view the 24th annual Inkster Memorial Day Parade. The parade is one of the biggest of its kind in Michigan and will include all of the pageantry of the Memorial Day holiday.

The parade will begin at noon, starting at the Cherry Hill Plaza (Cherry Hill and Inkster Road), winding southbound on Inkster Road to the City Hall, located in the Municipal Complex.

"We have some 2,500 marchers in this year's parade," said Ron Wolkowicz, parks and recreation director. "There are more than 70 units, including marching bands, floats and drill teams."

Memorial Day is the kick-off for summer festivities in Westland. Along with the Memorial Day parade stretching from Wayne to Westland, the Bailey Center will be opening the outdoor pool for public use.

The Westland Festival is planned from June 30 to July 4th ending with a fireworks celebration. Also featured will be a carnival with rides, games, musical performances and various other events.

The Miss Westland Summer Festival 1993 Beauty Pageant is scheduled at 7 p.m. June 26, at the Westland Center. "Miss Westland" will receive a crown, banner, trophy, one dozen long-stemmed roses, as well as $200 gift certificate from Westland Center. She will also be asked to assist in various activities throughout the festival.

tended a helping hand - two in particular: Hines and Portia Dickson, a community activist. The two have been designated as the honorary marshals.

Among dignitaries who also may be among the throng of marchers are Congressman William Ford, State Senator George Z. Hart, State Representative William Keith, Wayne County Commissioner Kay Beard, Wayne County Clerk Teola P. Hunter, Wayne County Sheriff Robert A. Ficano. The parade lineup also will include Mayor Edward Bivens Jr. and members of the Inkster City Council.

The Inkster, Henry Ford (Detroit) and Robichaud high school marching bands will provide the marching music.

Mayor Bivens Jr. invited citizens and area residents "to take part in his very solemn occasion that pays tribute to those who gave their last full measure of devotion to preserve the rights and freedom of our country."

The theme for the 1993 parade is We Will Stand With Pride Forever.

Canton Township sets 'hot' summer agenda

By CRAIG GARRETT
ANP Staff Writer

Sun or rain, Canton Township is hot this summer.

Plymouth-Canton veterans stage their annual Memorial Day Parade tomorrow to get things rolling in downtown Plymouth at 10 a.m. Participants this year include various veterans' organizations, guest speakers, the nationally recognized Plymouth-Canton Educational Park Band, a fly-over by Yankee Air Force demonstration pilots and a special visit by U.S. Congressman William Ford. Tributes are conducted at the veterans' site across from Kellogg Park.

June is particularly big for summer fun and activity, Canton Recreation Supervisor Bob Dates said.

"Obviously summer is our busiest season," Dates said, "and we think we're providing the widest variety of projects in my 14 years with the township--it's the difference between night and day."

Easily the biggest warm weather event in terms of resident turnout, Dates said, is the second Liberty Fest scheduled for June 25-27 in the Heritage Park area behind Township Hall. This year food concessions, entertainment, a fireworks show and the increasingly popular classic car show have been vastly expanded.

The auto show is hosted by the Camaro Club of Michigan and features two days of static displays. Dates said some 250 vehicles are expected this year.

Other notable township events targeted for preschoolers to seniors this summer include:

- A family Detroit Tiger trip (versus the California Angels) is slated for Saturday. Buses leave Township Hall at 11:45 a.m. and return after the game. Tickets are $10.

- A supervised day camp for youngsters ages 5 through 15 begins June 21 running through Aug. 6. Fees include food, field trips and special activities.

- The 15th Annual Canton Five Mile Run is scheduled for June 19 starting on Proctor Road next to township offices. The event gets under way at 9 a.m. and features several age categories.

- The annual Father's Day Golf Scrambles is set for June 20 at Fellows Creek Golf Course on Lotz Road. Three-member teams tee off starting at 11 a.m.

The township also is offering discount park and special attraction tickets through the treasurer's office.

"We're pretty well maxed out for space right now," Dates added, "but expect to amplify further recreation activities when we open the (Canton) Community Center in 1995. We're very excited about the future."

A morning program, from 9 a.m. to noon, is for 8- to 12-year-old boys and girls and the 1 to 4 p.m. sessions are slated for youth ages 13-18.

The cost will be $5 each and advance sign-ups at the Recreation Department area requested.

On July 4th the Recreation

Department is planning a three-on-three basketball tournament at noon for both men and women, as well as an all-day softball team competition.

Finally, the 8th annual Downriver Senior Olympics will be held in Romulus from Aug. 2-6 hosted by the Senior Drop-in Center and the city's Recreation Department. The Olympics will include ping pong, softball throws, basketball shoots, volleyball, frisbee throws and lawn bowling.

Where we stand

We haven't changed our opinion regarding the two major issues on the ballot in our area this Wednesday.

While we still have some questions, we are firmly recommending that voters cast a YES vote for Proposal A.

This proposal will remove the burden of school financing from the backs of homeowners and guarantee at least a moderate and equal amount of funding for a basic education to children across our state.

Yes, there will still be millage elections to provide better and improved services and programs. That will be a local question to be decided by each community.

But this proposal will provide the basics, which in many cases are overlooked and under financed.

As for local control, we voiced our rather strident opinion earlier in the week. We are in favor of a bit more control of education and school districts in general and feel the antics and actions of many board members and administrators have proven the need for some safety factors.

We want our children educated and we want some assurance that the tax dollars paid for that purpose are spent in an equitable and fair manner. We want to know that our children and all children are provided a basic education and that a high school diploma guarantees a certain level of competency.

As we said earlier, this type of plan works and works well in other states. We feel voters here would do well to follow that example. It is time for a change and while this proposal is certainly not a panacea, it is a step toward change which is so desperately needed.

VOTE YES ON PROPOSAL A.

In the City of Wayne, voters will be considering a Prevailing Wage question. We urge them to punch number 18 and vote NO on this question.

This is limiting free enterprise and an assault on the bidding process allowing for municipalities to best spend tax dollars. We are against unions dictating prices of city contracts and controlling business done with municipalities.

And, we are obviously against municipalities spending more money for city services and jobs than necessary. We feel this ordinance is self-serving and not in the best interests of the taxpayers and residents of Wayne.

VOTE NO ON THE PREVAILING WAGE QUESTION.

Cooperation is Riverfest highlight

When communities work together, the results can be impressive.

A notable example was the recent Riverfest '93 celebration in Belleville, which was staged with the cooperative efforts of the city, two townships, the school district, a conservation group, the business community and a fraternal organization.

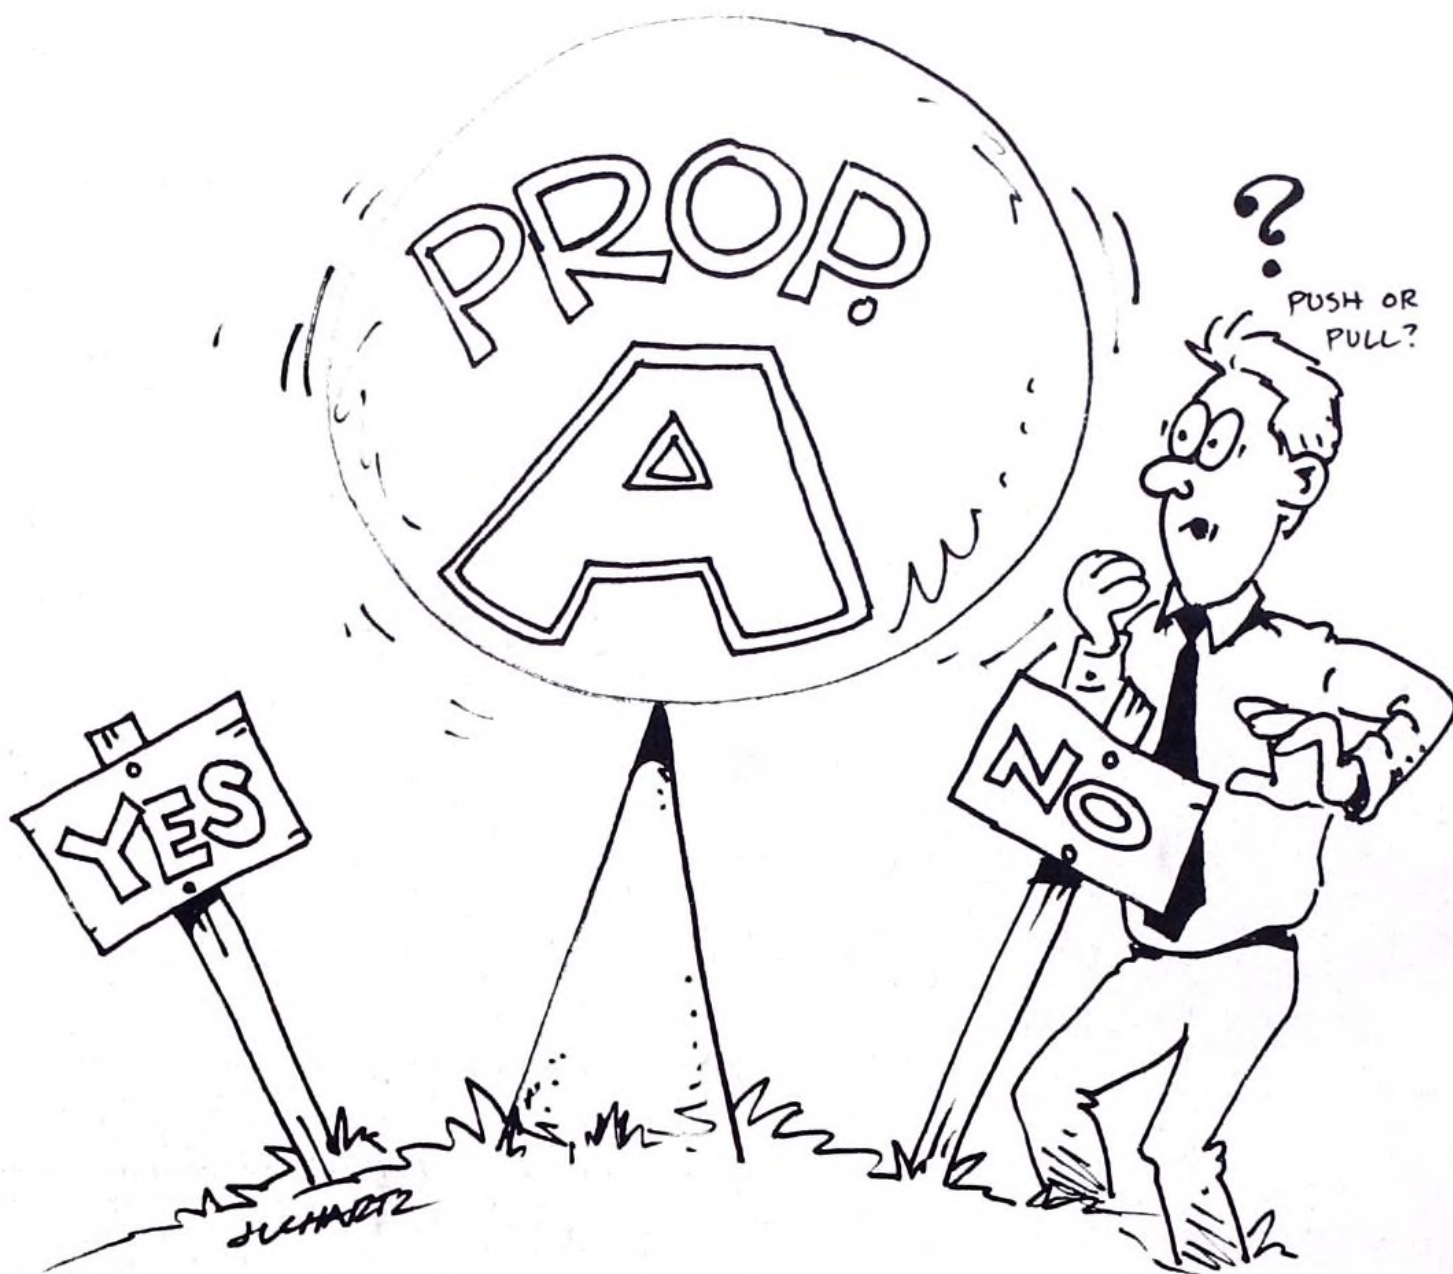

Belleville Lake was a stop-off for a flotilla of canoeists on an eight-day trip from the headwaters of the Huron River to Lake Erie. The Huron River Watershed Council had launched the project to gather information about water quality and to increase awareness about the importance of Michigan streams and rivers.

Along the way, the flotilla made numerous stops, but nowhere, according to the canoeists, were they welcomed with the enthusiasm and hospitality that was generated in Belleville. Members of the flotilla marveled that more than 150 people were on hand to greet them on a weekday afternoon, many of whom were not directly involved with the river project.

The visitors were impressed with the displays set up by the Loyal Order of Moose Lodge 934 and the Huron Valley Conservation Association (HVCA) which enabled the visitors to gain information about their hosts as well as to disseminate information about their project.

Our hats are off to the representatives of the city of Belleville, Sumpter Township, Van Buren Township, HVCA, the Van Buren Public Schools and the Belleville Central Business Community.

Their cooperative effort paid off, and we hope to see more of the same kind of cooperation between the three communities, businesses and members of clubs and organizations in the future.

Proposal A called latest lottery

To the editor:

Proposal A is a guaranteed sales tax increase forever, a guaranteed property tax increase forever, and a guaranteed tax increase for senior citizens, renters, poor people and those of moderate means with moderate homes.

The chiselers and special interests would have you believe that Proposal A is politician proof—don't believe it. There are 11 loopholes built into the proposal which allows the "legislature" to change the implementing laws anytime they choose.

Figures don't lie but liars figure, they baffle and dazzle us with details and refuse to tell the whole story. Let me explain.

They promise reductions in school operating millage rates but they don't tell you that school bond millages and others are not included in the reductions.

They promise caps on assessments but they refuse to show you the implementing language which will result in assessments exceeding the rate of inflation.

They won't tell you about the $5.2 million hidden in the school aid formula to pay for the "special Proposal A election" statewide on Wednesday, June 2.

They won't tell you of the shift from state spending to schools for teacher retirement benefits ($50,000,000) and Social Security payments. This is Robin Hood.

They won't tell you that Proposal A is indeed an overall tax increase of giant proportions which takes $393 million out of the pockets of seniors, renters and poor people through reductions of the Homestead Tax Credit, etc.

Mr. David Littman, noted economist, has indicated that if all school districts in our state levied just 25 1/2 mills, Proposal A would be a $50,000,000 tax increase.

Mr. Richard Headlee, author of the 1978 Headlee Amendment, will tell you that this year, regardless of Proposal A, the Headlee Amendment guarantees a $406 million property tax cut by rolling millages back. He will also tell you that the state is trying to cheat you out of this reduction.

We taxpayers have been denied the bottom line by politicians and special interests who stand to gain from this horrible "a"bomination called

Proposal A. Why won't they tell us how much in total, statewide, school millage rollbacks will be? Why won't they tell us in total, statewide, how much the assessments will be rolled back? Why won't they tell us, in total, statewide how much the sales tax will increase? Who much more will our Federal Income Tax burden go up, overall, etc.? They dazzle and baffle us with details and never give us the bottom line.

Justice Black, former Supreme Court judge, said that the taxpayers were "yensed" in 1963 when they voted for the Constitution. We are about to get "yensed" again if we vote for Proposal A.

Finally, who do you trust, Mr. Richard Headlee, Mr. David Littman, all the county taxpayer association or the Legislature? Don't forget—mark it on your calendar—Wednesday, June 2, 1993, vote no on Proposal A and don't forget the lottery.

Association says Prevailing wage is union wage

To the editor:

I would like to comment on some points that have been raised concerning the prevailing wage issue that will be on the June 2 ballot.

Prevailing wage as determined by the State of Michigan is not an average, as often thought. The state act states that only wages "under collective agreements" (i.e. union contracts) are used in the survey. The Construction Labor Research Council states that in the region that includes Michigan, about 44 percent (43.8 percent) of the construction work force is union. Therefore, the state act excludes the majority of the work force when determining the so-called prevailing wage.

The primary argument for prevailing wage is to maintain the community's standard of living. This ignores the fact that setting wage rates does nothing to assure that the funds will go to Wayne residents or stay in the community in any way.

The standard of living argument also seems to presume that without the protection of a prevailing wage law only very low pay is received. The fact is that a journey person in any of the construction trades is a very skilled person who commands good wages and benefits regardless of their employer or labor affiliation.

A second argument often presented is quality. Quality is not assured by mandating a wage rate. Quality is assured by the ongoing work of the city engineer and building inspection department. These individuals no doubt serve the city well in that regard.

In other words, the only way quality is assured is by inspecting the work.

There are numerous studies showing that prevailing wage laws cost the community more money. The Congressional Budget Office states that repeal of the Federal Prevailing Wage law would save $4.7 billion over five years. A Michigan Department of Management and Budget study showed that the state law adds 15 percent to the cost of state projects. Administration of the program is also costly. Passing such an ordinance obligates the city to ensure compliance. Staff audit time would be necessary to be certain that the requirements of the proposed ordinance are being met. Simply put, the ordinance would raise the cost of construction for the City of Wayne at a time when budgets of the city and the schools are under increasing pressure.

The "level playing field" already exists. The competitive bidding process has served the city well, and the residents of Wayne should allow the existing system to continue unchanged.

Roger Roley
Executive Director,
Associated Builders and Contractors, Inc.

Prevailing wage gets support

To the editor:

In reply to Mr. Ahrenberg's comments in the May 13, 1993 editorial page:

First, Mr. Ahrenberg opposes the prevailing wage ordinance because he believes it doesn't serve Wayne businesses. On the contrary, with a prevailing wage, a "level field of play" for biddings is established. There will be no undercutting of bids at the expense of workers wages, benefits and safety concerns. Any and all contractors have an equal chance of winning a contract.

Secondly, Wayne's skilled tradesmen and women will be employed. This will bring taxes and revenues to Wayne.

Lastly Wayne will benefit by getting the best craftsmen available. Building tradesmen go through rigorous schooling and constant upgrading of their skills. Why shouldn't Wayne deserve the best?

Generally speaking, a worker who is reluctantly paid a sub-standard wage will do substandard work.

The best interests of Wayne will be served by voting yes on the prevailing wage June 2.

Bob Birch
Canton Township

Resident says Proposal A means more tax

To the editor:

Several years ago, Michigan brought forth a lottery. They touted it as a boon for the schools, but it seems none of it ever went to the schools. Two bills were brought forth to force the proceeds to go to the schools, but they never got off first base.

Now they bring forth the idea of raising sales tax by two cents and the proceeds will go to the schools. You voters out there, tell me, is the political circus in Lansing going to steer the lottery also for the schools? don't bet on either one ever helping any district out.

It seems that Thomas, the school superintendent is going to force teachers to vote on Proposal A by not holding another bond election. I understand he hired a man to do work others already were performing. Maybe, if all the administrators across the state and all the politicians would take a 30 percent pay cut there would be a lot of money for schools to teach the kids. Why do schools need the administrators, anyway?

If Proposal A passes, the people who own homes are not going to get that rebate either, and in the end we will all pay more taxes right down the line. You can bet on it.

School librarians denounce proposed program cuts

By MARGO DEWEY
ANP Feature Editor

The majority of children learn to enjoy reading at the elementary school level, but soon that inspiration will be locked away as budget cuts in the Wayne-Westland district cause elementary library doors to close.

Geri Goff, librarian for the 21 elementary schools in the district, recently informed the Associated Newspapers if voters do not approve Proposal A June 2, there will no longer be a library in the elementary schools.

"When you lose your libraries, you lose the foundation of your house," Goff said. "A number of studies have shown that libraries provide the foundation to a student's education."

The district will be making more than $12 million in cuts to the budget and staffing due to the recent defeat of the Headlee Rollback and millage proposal.

There will no longer be a full-time librarian to assist students with their immediate needs, according to Ed Marman, Franklin Junior High School librarian and Joanna Link, Stevenson Junior High School librarian.

"A year ago the school board granted a $100,000 library renovation fund to each of the four junior high schools and a $150,000 to each of the high schools," Link said. "We're at the end of the second year of spending the $100,000."

"Each of the junior high schools has spent approximately $66,000 over the last two years to use up that $100,000."

At Stevenson Link said $45,000 was spent on computers and software for students and teachers. Approximately $18,000 has been spent on books, filmstrips and videos.

"If the library cuts go through, then Stevenson will have a librarian in there only half a day, and the library will then be closed the rest of the day," Link said. "There will also be no clerical help."

"What we're talking about is $64,000 worth of brand new materials either locked up because nobody is there, or if the door is left open, then the materials have a way of disappearing."

Marman said the total investment in books, audio-visual equipment and computers and miscellaneous items such as typewriters totals approximately $6 million.

Each of the junior high schools in the district have one full-time librarian and one full-time clerk.

"In the high schools there are 2 1/2 librarians and one full-time clerk," Marman said. "In the elementary schools there is one full-time clerk per school, and one professional librarian for 21 elementary schools.

"We're still way behind other schools even with the renovation. There will no longer be anyone in the libraries to instruct, supervise and teach kids and teachers how to check in and out computer materials. This is a $6 million investment that will either be unavailable or unsecured."

Marman said for the last 15 years the library program has been cut continuously.

Belleville chief to retire

By JOAN DYER-ZINNER
Belleville City Editor

Although he will retire at the end of June, Belleville Police Chief Willard (Doc) Dockter plans to keep busy with part-time work and a consultant's post.

Dockter, 57, took an early retirement as part of a cost-cutting program implemented by the city. He will continue as a consultant to the city for the next two years at a wage of $18 an hour or a maximum of $5,000 annually.

He also is considering a part-time traffic safety post.

"I'll be busy for awhile just doing some things around the house that I've been neglecting, and I'd also like to spend some time at my place in Mackinaw," said Dockter. "I'm just going to play it by ear."

Dockter, who will have accumulated 33-1/2 years in the Belleville Police Department when he retires, said his time on the job "doesn't seem that long."

people to check with the police department or the chamber of commerce before they write a check."

Dockter's anti-scam campaigns have produced results, he said.

"We get quite a few calls reporting driveway scams or other home repair swindles," the police said.

"There's always something new that con artists try when the public catches on to their schemes," he said. "Lately, callers, who pose as police officers, are calling people to report that a relative or business associate has had an accident or been arrested and needs money right away. The caller directs the victim to send money - often as much as $500 - to a code name at a Western Union office."

Dockter hopes that those who fill his shoes will keep reminding citizens to "check before they write a check."

Van Buren school officials favor Proposal A

After studying the June 2 property tax reform proposal, the Van Buren Board of Education gave the ballot issue an "A-OK" rating.

If approved, the amendment will:

- Limit the annual assessment rate (excluding new construction) to five percent or the inflation rate, which is less.
- Reduce maximum school operating taxes to 18 non-voted mills, and permit districts to levy up to nine additional voted mills.
- Increase State sales and use taxes to 6 percent, and dedicate this additional revenue and lottery proceeds to schools.

"For Van Buren Public Schools, the operating millage rate would be reduced approximately 40 percent from the current 45.25 mills to 25.7

mills," said Superintendent James Richendollar.

"Firstly, it addresses the request of the overburdened homeowner for relief and to have everyone share the burden. Proposal A would spread the obligation of financing education over a wider base to include renters, mobile home owners and tourists. Secondly, Proposal A is by far the best plan for education. If the proposal fails, funding for education will be reduced which will devastate districts already financially strapped and negatively impact others," the superintendent said.

"Thirdly, an analysis showed that many individuals realize a savings under the proposed amendment. Numerous factors such as household income, state equalized valuation, filing status, tax deductibility are considered in determining a savings or loss," Richendollar said.

"I have spoken with numerous seniors over the years who support education to the hilt, but are on the verge of having to sell their homes due to higher taxes. Proposal A will reduce the property tax and thus provide considerable relief for the seniors on a fixed income of social security and little else," he said.

Richendollar said school officials will conduct meetings at the Sumpter and Van Buren senior centers to determine the individual status of seniors under the proposal. In one example, a senior citizen with a home valued at $32,720 would have a tax savings of $454 if Proposal A is adopted.

"The major obstacle facing Proposal A is apathy and distrust," the superintendent said. "Proposal A gives homeowners a constitutional guarantee. However, some say, 'I just don't trust them.'"

"Proposal A actually prevents legislative circumvention by constitutionally guaranteeing that individual assessments will not increase by more than five percent per year or the cost of living, whichever is less, and no school operational millage rate may exceed 27 mills. In addition, all money from the increased sales tax will go to education," the superintendent said.

Overall, the amendment spells savings for homeowners and improved support for students, the Van Buren School Board reported, noting that the amendment could represent a tax shift, a savings or a loss depending on one's circumstances.

Honda Civic EX Coupe

Honda philosophy is good example

By CRAIG GARRETT
ANP Staff Writer

A car designed around an engine.

Honda uses the philosophy and it's amazingly simple--build a tightly fitted and functionally comfortable vehicle around a surprisingly athletic and historically reliable motor. It works and the 1993 Civic EX is an excellent example.

EX is part of the new Honda Civic starting line up featuring a 1.6L, 16-valve SOHC alloy motor flexing 125 truck-passing plow horses, but offering a fairly remarkable 320 miles from 11.9 gallons, or a 27 mile per gallon average (tested with a five-speed manual at traffic speed).

Ride and handling are further enhanced by power assisted rack-and-pinion steering, four-wheel disc brakes, front and rear stabilizer bars, gas shocks and 14-inch tires. The driver doesn't lurch and sway in tight ramps and sharp turn maneuvers.

Contoured seats help, although it must be noted that Honda did not design EX, or any Civic model for that matter, with heavier Americans in mind. The vehicle is low to the ground and snug, but hit the bell and you win. There's minimal road play and the control feel rates high.

Interior space and comfort of the road-tested Civic EX, with minimal road and tire-tracking noise, is fairly straightforward and basic up front with standard A/C, power windows, moon roof and mirrors, cruise control, digital clock, reclining seats and air bag (passenger SRS is optional). Dials and knobs are within reach (of course, the Queen Mary EX is not) and the stereo/cassette is strong and clear.

Don't plan on stuffing too much more than kids or groceries in back, but there's plenty of rear cargo and storage space (fold-down rear seats) for your stuff.

Vehicle crashes are leading cause of child deaths in country

The numbers are alarming: motor vehicle crashes are the leading cause of death and injury among young children up to age 4. That translates to hundreds of deaths and tens of thousands of injuries throughout the country each year. Yet help is available--correct use of a child car seat reduces the risk of death and injury by 70 percent, according to the National Highway Traffic Safety Administration (NHTSA).

Other figures related to youngsters and car seats include:

- Some 650 children under age 4 die annually on roads and highways with another 49,000 injuries.

- Car seats are mandatory in the U.S. for all children usually up to the age of 4. The first passenger protection law was passed in 1978 by Tennessee lawmakers. By 1985, all 50 states and the District of Columbia had enacted similar laws. By 1989, Puerto Rico and the U.S. Territories also had child passenger safety laws in effect.

- Proper use of car seats could reduce risk of death or serious injury to children by 70 percent.

- In 1991, 247 children, age four and under, were saved by child passenger safety restraints. However, 100 percent use of child seats in 1991 could have prevented nearly 455 deaths and thousands of serious injuries to youngsters under five.

- From 1982 through 1991, an estimated 1,793 children age four and under were saved as a result of child restraint use.

- At least one in four car seats is used incorrectly, according to national health and safety experts. Other local studies suggest that as many as 80 to 90 percent of child car seats may be misused to some extent.

Some of the most common mistakes in car seat usage include:

- Infants being placed in rear-facing safety seats that are facing the front.
- Children are not secured by the safety harness, but are simply sitting loose in the safety seat.

- The car seat is not secured by the car's safety belt.

- The automatic belt system is used without reviewing the vehicle or manufacturer's instructions.

- A rear-facing safety seat is used in an air bag-equipped seating position.
